BRIAN MARTIN

This has been a wonder full year

The Beer Party
And Rules

Brian
You dummi dummi had a lot of fear knowing you really have got
not. I'll miss you next year at school. The best of luck always, sweet heart. Love, Debbie Stahr

Brian
Is a crazy kid who has been alot of fun in French. Remember
Kallendbach.
Good Luck.

Brian
I had alot of funny crickets
I had alot of English and family members being in the some class in 6th Grade
Henry Green

Brian,
you, I remember 7th grade. See Kathy didn't need to laugh. I don't remember way I was mad though.
Lots of luck + Best in the future.
Love,
Stacy

Brian,
To a lot of people
you are a real
cool guy with a lot of style and confidence.

Brian,
Remember the game?
Well maybe we can do things
over again like
we planned.
Keep your fingers
crossed for me cause right now I'll need all the luck I can get and more. Stay just as sweet
as ever.
Remember are good old history.

Kevin Blum

Brian,
you are a real cool quiet guy who is a lot of fun.
Lots of luck

Hi Brian!
I'm doing this on the one.

Brian,
What can I say, but you're a nut. But what would this world be like without you. I want to thank you for everything (especially Geometry).

Love Ya
Doree

Brian
to you are honest really good lotsa fun. But you're a real personality always
in the future
Kathy Bailey

~~Donna~~ Donna, you don't know me that well and I don't know you, but I went to the same school last year and you had a great personality and a great voice. Keep up the good work and you are going to go far. I would like to get to know you better.

TRAIL '69

all I can say is your trail sweet, cute,
nice. and see you next year I hope. Well that's all for now
Remember the the year '69?

See you next year.

Donna
Ornel
(69"-71")

sorry about the whole page but I got carried away.

Brian -
 It's been a blast in French you got a real neat personality - hope to see you next yr.
 Patty Stanley

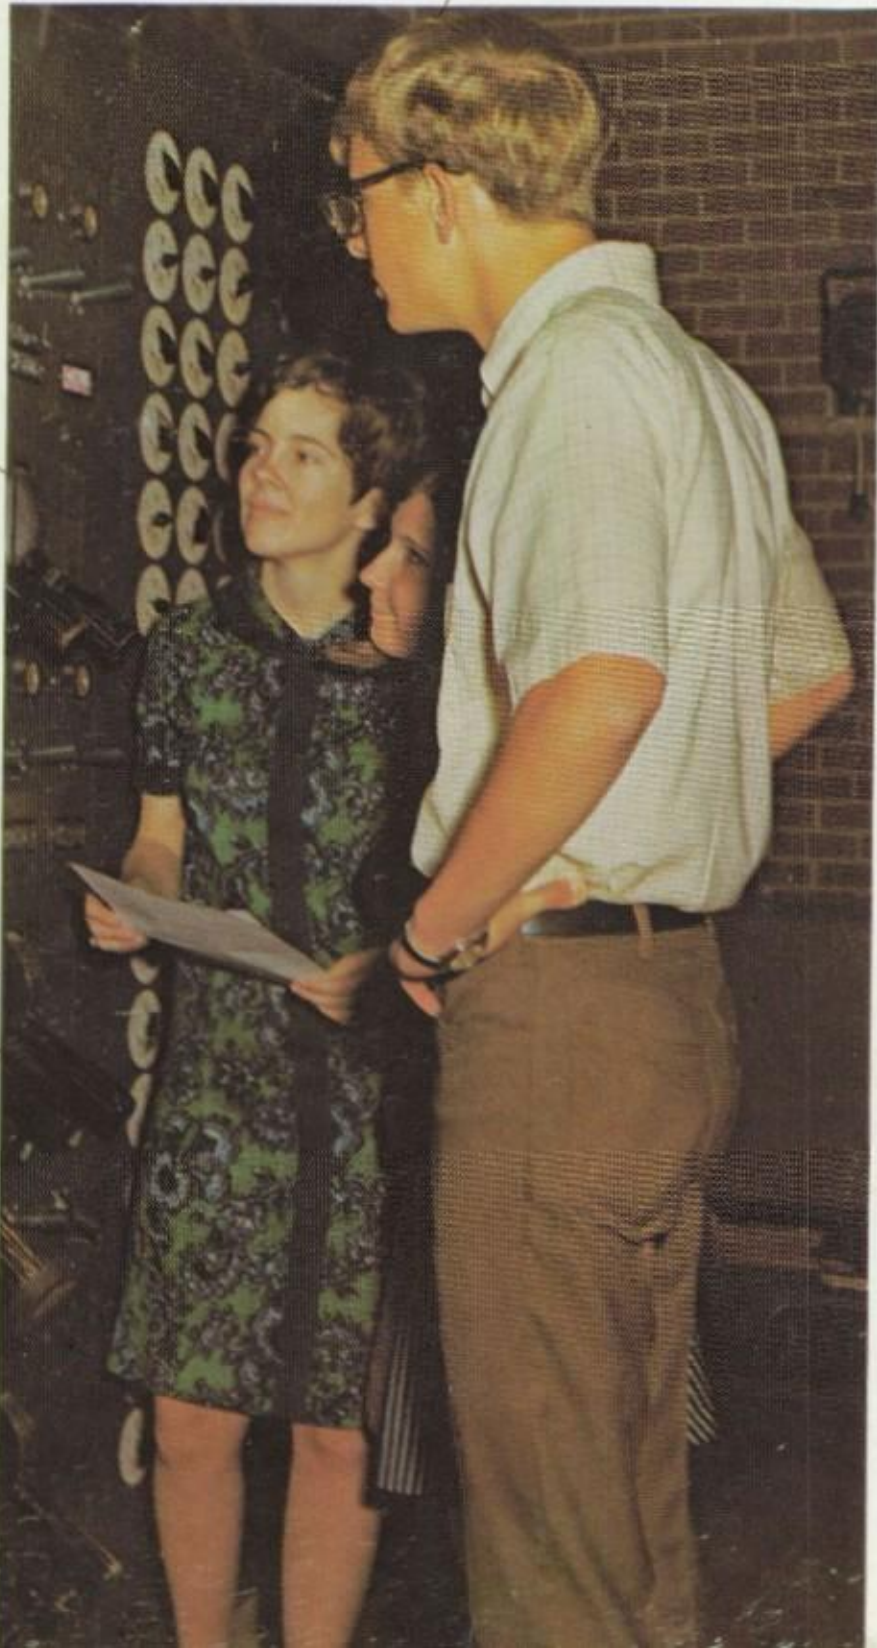

Brian,
 you have a delightful & mystifying personality very unpredictable! That's what makes knowing so interesting. I don't know you well and I don't know you how much I've missed ~~you~~ not meeting you earlier in the year. Keep trying out for plays and some day you'll be a big part of that you deserve.
 It's been nice working with you in "The Sandbox".
 Sincerely,
 Jill Reye
 '69

... would improve. if both need to improve in that area - if you have a joke to be a good to one - you can still be in music. Mrs. Mackley!

Brian - even though your puns aren't too funny I've enjoyed being a student teacher at West. I hope you've learned as much from me as I have from all of you. Mrs. Austin

Bryan,
 To one of the best time kickin buddies
 I know. Stay you a sweet, laughable self (1-2-34-5) See ya next yr

administration

principal assumes duties in many areas

Behind each up-to-date educational system stands a group of busy administrators. West is fortunate in having such a staff, headed by Dr. Edwin Friesen.

During the summer, Dr. Friesen taught two classes in administration at Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, Illinois. On his return to Wichita, Dr. Friesen resumed the several church and civic duties which he assumes in addition to his work as a busy high school principal.

The services performed by the administration are as varied as the problems West students face. With his training and years of practical experience, Dr. Friesen has proven that he and his staff can cope with any problem, student or faculty, that may arise.

Donald G. Olson, B.S., M.S.,

administration

leaders develop empathy, enforce rules

Essential people in West's administration are Mr. Donald Olson and Mr. Howard Roe, the Assistant Principals.

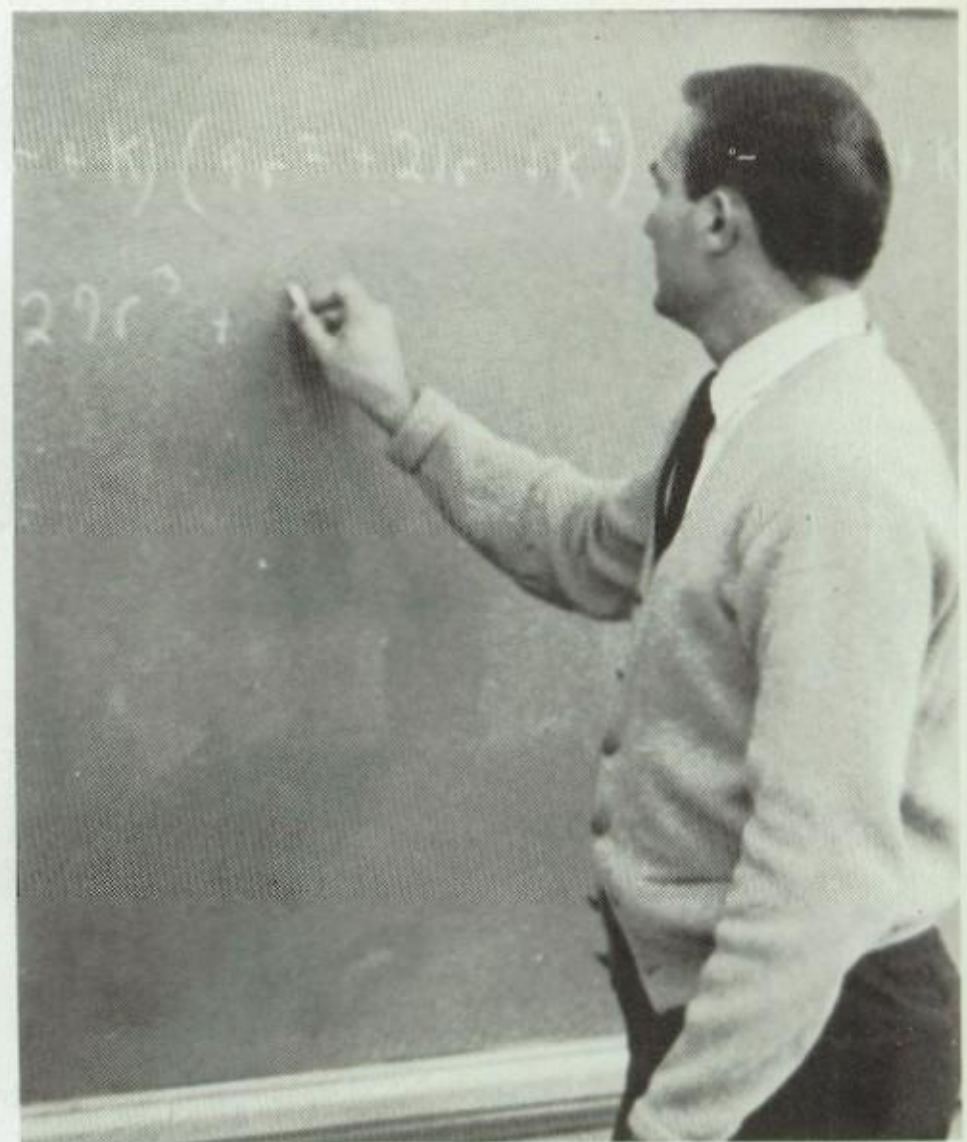

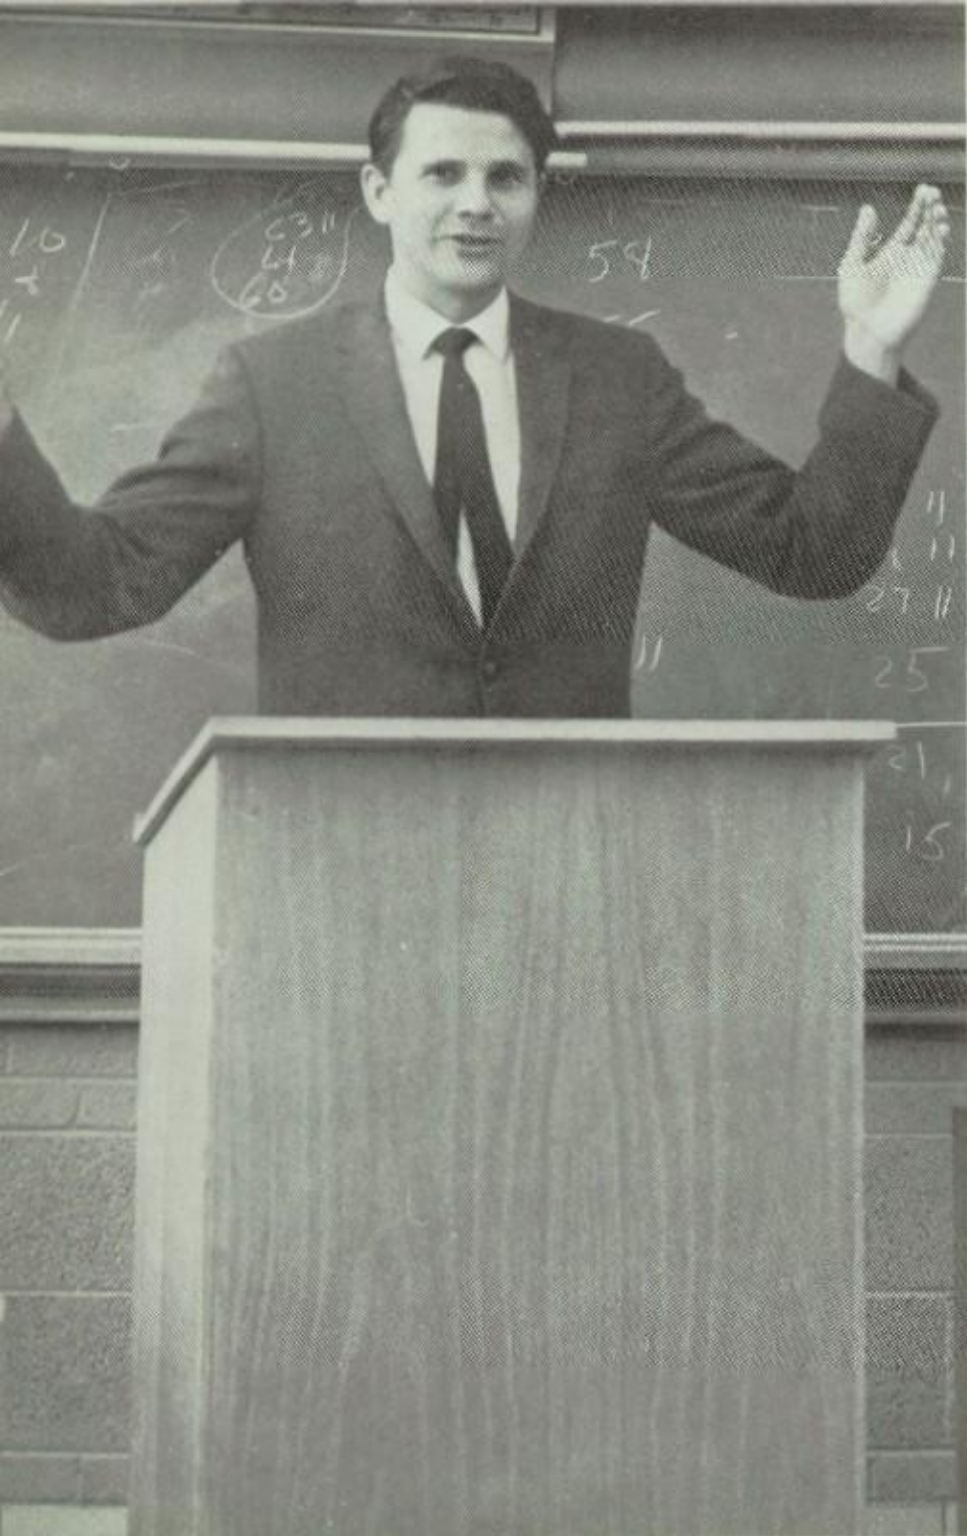

Mr. Olson's main duties are in supervision of student activities and clubs and attendance problems.

Mr. Roe's primary concern is West's I.B.M. computer information system. He is in charge of the student attendance program. All three principals join together to form a concise, practical team of administrators in West's modern educational system.

The new Assistant Principal, Mr. Howard Roe, patrols the halls during the passing periods and discourages early departures during class time.

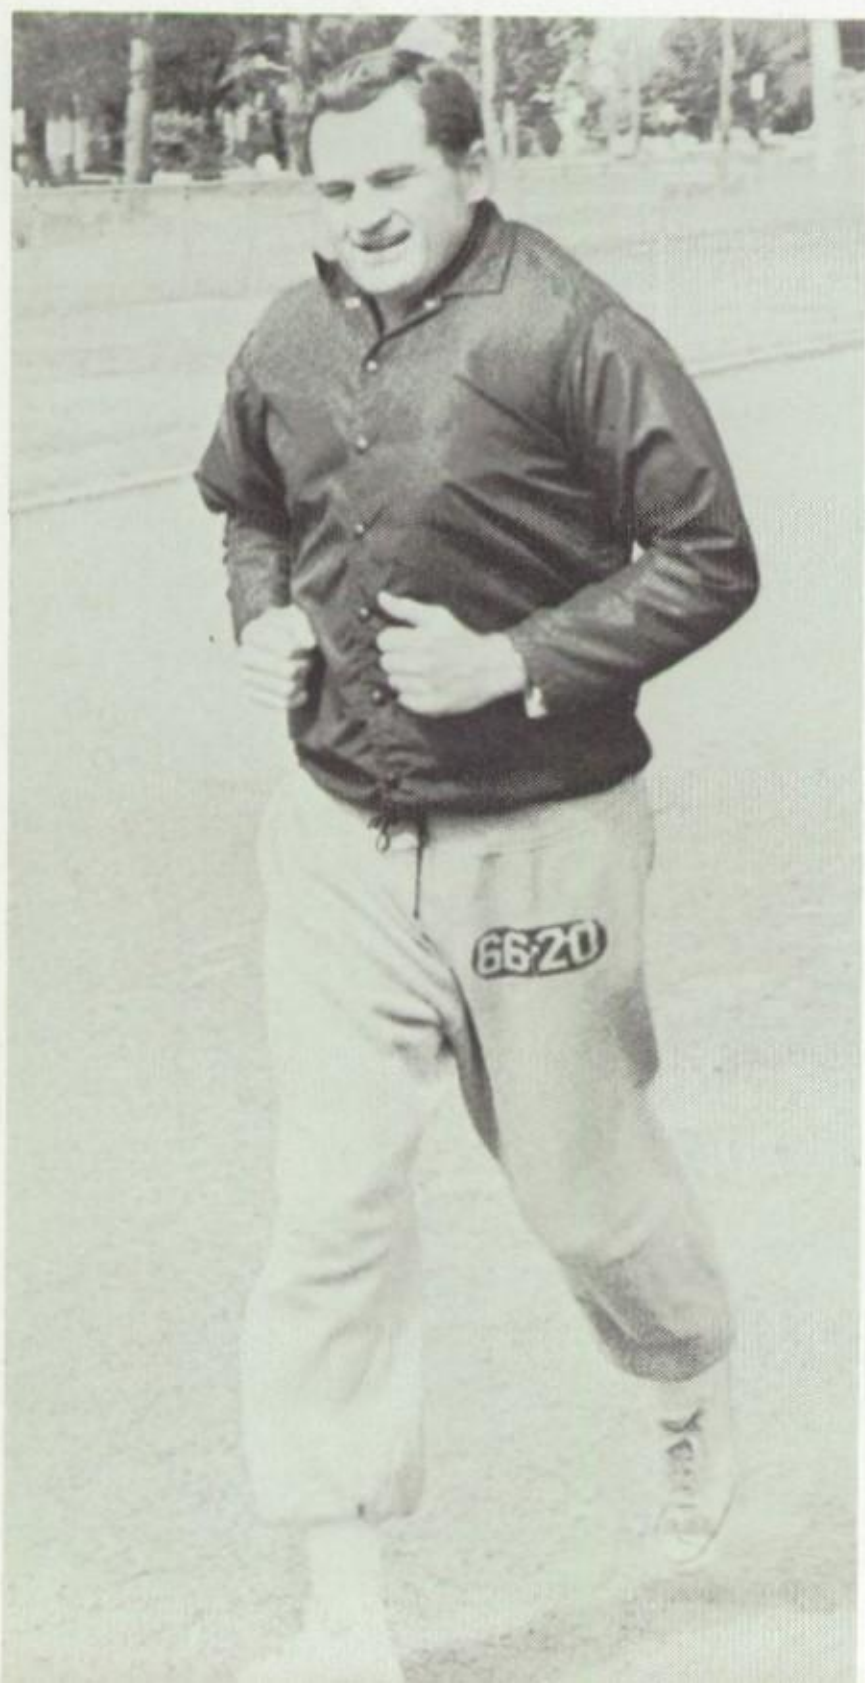

Brian, the
 you are the sweetest guy I know.
 I'm so glad I got to know you this year.
 ARE YOU SURE the bus goes downtown? I hope so. Be good & good bless you. Love,
 Pat Palmer

Taken for granted by many are those involved in special services: the nurse, librarians, counselors, and the special education teachers. Yearly dental check-ups and eye tests keep Mrs. Darlene Anderson busy in the nurse's office. Mrs. Luanne Scheuerman is always in the library to answer the questions of confused researchers or to give advice of reading matter.

The Guidance Center is a scene of constant activity throughout the year as counselors help students with class schedules, college and career choices, and various other problems.

The Special Education portables house an infinite variety of equipment and projects as students with special learning problems get individual attention.

music, art

large audience sees result of class work

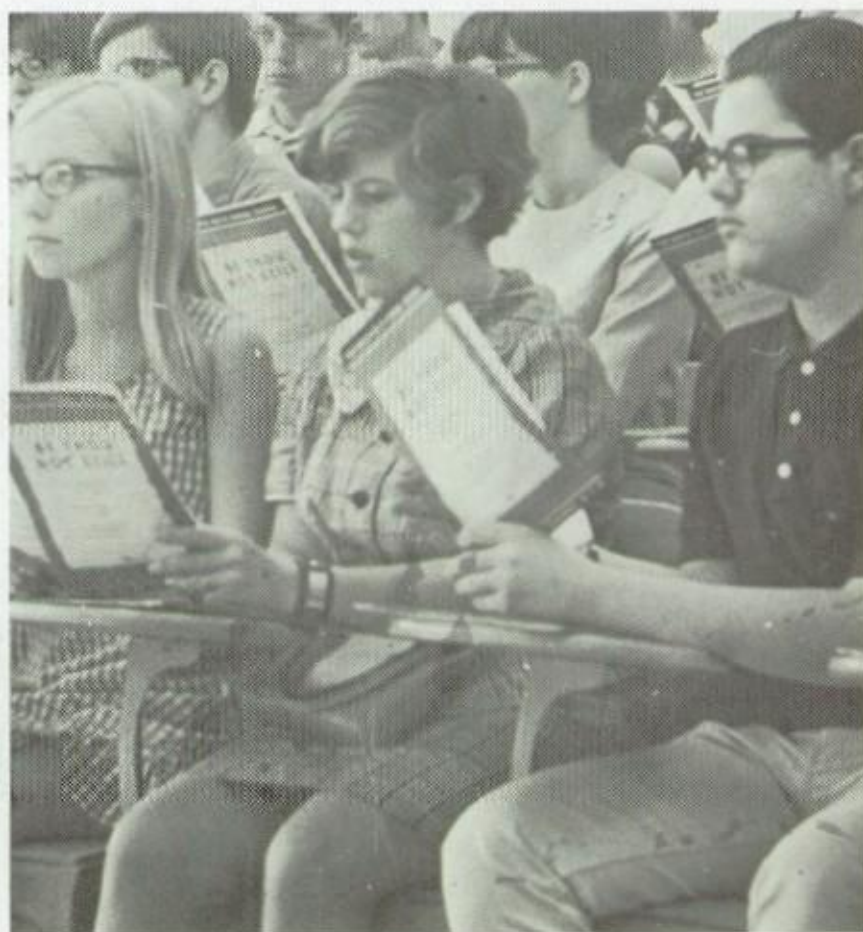

The band made appearances at many athletic contests and presented several concerts in the auditorium.

The vocal department presented concerts during the year, some of which were for the annual Thanksgiving and Easter programs. They also formed the traditional singing Christmas tree.

Along with these many activities, both the choir and band participated in special activities at commencement.

Sophomore Gary Nicholson shows his early morning appreciation for music.

Each year the art department becomes more active with such activities as various city and state-wide exhibitions, shows at other schools, the annual spring show, which includes 500-700 pieces of art, and the National Scholastics show.

This department has grown from seven classes, 130 students, in 1963 to 15 classes and more than 400 students in 1968.

workshops, field trips add to interest

Besides the traditional reading and writing assignments, teachers in the Language Arts Department found interesting supplementary work.

Daily journals were kept by students in English Composition and Advanced Placement English. Mrs. Joan Swinney's juniors prepared colonial newspapers with their study of that period in American literature. Mr. Joe Nixon's sophomores studied parliamentary procedure. Several classes used the Wichita Eagle and various magazines as supplementary work.

Fifteen students attended the second annual Book and Author Seminar in September. Throughout the year, others attended workshops and special lectures on associated subjects.

Besides the required English II and III classes, the department offered thirteen other choices. Among these were journalism, dramatics, and debate.

Joe Morell, Deeann Glamser, and Jeanne Heatherly, Journalism II students, prepare West Words for mailing to advertisers and other schools.

math and science

experimentation leads to further learning

Models provide Mr. Lonnie Ruth with a new method of teaching the aspects of aeronautics.

Basic principles and how they apply to everyday life are studied during courses in math and science.

In the math department, a variety of courses includes everything from basic math to trigonometry for seniors. Math teachers were kept busy explaining complex formulas to their students.

Classes in the science department spent a year exploring and experimenting. During the year geology classes traveled around the state on field trips, and zoology classes explored around the school. One project of the department was landscaping the pond dug by previous science classes.

social studies

department helps meet graduation needs

Through the use of maps, Mrs. Bonabel Bash illustrates a point during World Geography.

During a student's progress toward graduation, he must meet certain history requirements.

To accomplish the idea of total education, the Social Studies Department employs many essential methods and devices for the students' educational programs. New to the curriculum is Honors Seminar, which is concerned with an advanced teaching of history by means of writing a semester research paper or a series of crucial book reviews.

business education

classes concentrate on practical approach

Students enrolled in business courses found themselves getting a solid background in preparation for earning a living.

Salesmanship and Distributive Education students operated the school bookstore and learned techniques of merchandising and display while they provided a school service. They also planned and executed the designs in the display window at the intersection of E and K.

Office Education and Distributive Education people were required to work at outside jobs in order to earn the additional credit offered.

Large enrollments in the typewriting and shorthand classes indicated that West is doing its share in providing office workers for the needs of the community.

Instructing a student in the use of a full-key adding machine, Mrs. Carol Emmons explains its use.

Showing the finer points of salesmanship are senior Robbie Yates and junior Jim Snyder.

home economics

cash earned by classes pays for field trips

Service and money-making projects occupied much of the time of the Home Economics Department. The Food Service classes served refreshments at the faculty meetings and at a journalism meeting held during the teachers meetings. During Christmas week, they held a foods bazaar.

Both boys and girls learned the fundamentals of baking and preparing a meal in their foods classes. The Clothing Service girls made clothes at a profit for other people; they also made children's clothes for a leper colony in Africa. Christmas gifts made by the Clothing Service class were ordered and sold.

The students in the foods and clothing service classes were required to have jobs in order to get three hours of credit.

In an effort to earn money for their annual trip, girls in the Clothing Service Class make and sell such things as the formal worn by a mannikin as they prepare a display window.

Industrial Arts is the practical education provided by such courses as woodworking, printing, mechanical drawing, graphic arts, drivers education, and auto mechanics.

The printing classes printed all the tickets and programs for the plays, dances, concerts, and games, as well as the West Word cards.

The auto mechanics people gain practical learning by working on the assortment of cars they've collected. They learn the fundamentals of being an auto mechanic.

New courses are often added; one is architectural structure taught in mechanical drawing. Another new course added to the curriculum is graphic arts or photography. The curriculum also includes Drivers Education and Woodworking.

Transmission repair is only one of the aspects of car maintenance taught in Mr. Arden Sanderson's Vocational Auto Mechanics class.

physical education

exertion provides needed outlet for energies

"A-ten-hut" was the call of the day as the coaches of each hour's Physical Education classes took control of their drowsy students.

During the early fall, the boys matched their cunning in football. As the year progressed, they tangled in wrestling, basketball, and gymnastics. Then finally they worked on elements of track and field.

The girls were not neglected in the West Physical Education program. In classes the girls participated in activities from beginning swimming to modern dance. Like the boys, the girls enjoyed after school intra-murals.

staffs

busy employees aid to school's functioning

"Always willing to help," seemed to be the motto of the combined staffs of West this year. Through the long hours of behind-the-scenes work, these staffs kept West operations at peak efficiency.

The main loads of these staffs were divided into three areas: the office, the cafeteria, and the mechanical operations of the school.

Working at the switchboard is an important task in the office which is handled by Mrs. Bobbie Thomson.

Anticipating trouble is eased by the checking of blueprints, as shown by relief engineer Mr. C. A. Tucker, and day engineers J. W. McAllister and G. L. O'Dell.

Office Staff Front Row: Mrs. Maxine Connors, Mrs. Bobbie Thomson, Mrs. Carol Newell. Back Row: Mrs. Theda Smethers, Mrs. Maxine Foster, Mrs. Virginia Malia, Mrs. Joy Duvall.

Hall duty is a difficult task performed by one of the security personnel, Mrs. Gertha Hicks.

Doing a normally forgotten job, Mrs. Cora Lee Phelps, is cleaning the water fountain.

The office staff was comprised of seven secretarial workers. Their jobs were to assist with the administrative function of the school.

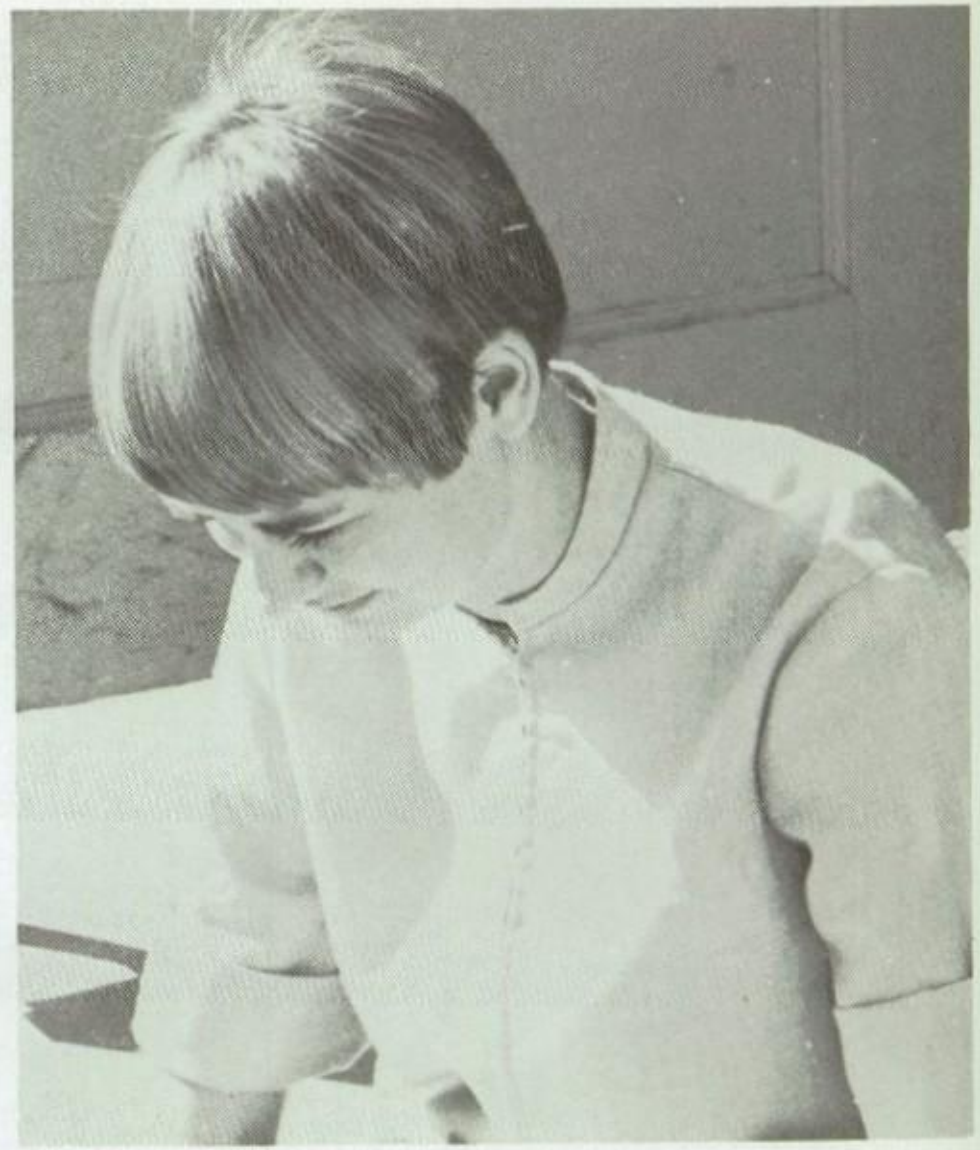

Another essential staff is that of the cafeteria. Though often taken for granted and frequently riddled by complaints, they continued to do a fine job with what was available.

The final staffs which give a vital service to the school are those of the engineers and custodians. They have seen to it that the entire school was cleaned and well maintained.

Through long hours of patrolling the parking lot, Mr. Marvin Cross, the other security agent, has helped reduce the gyping rate.

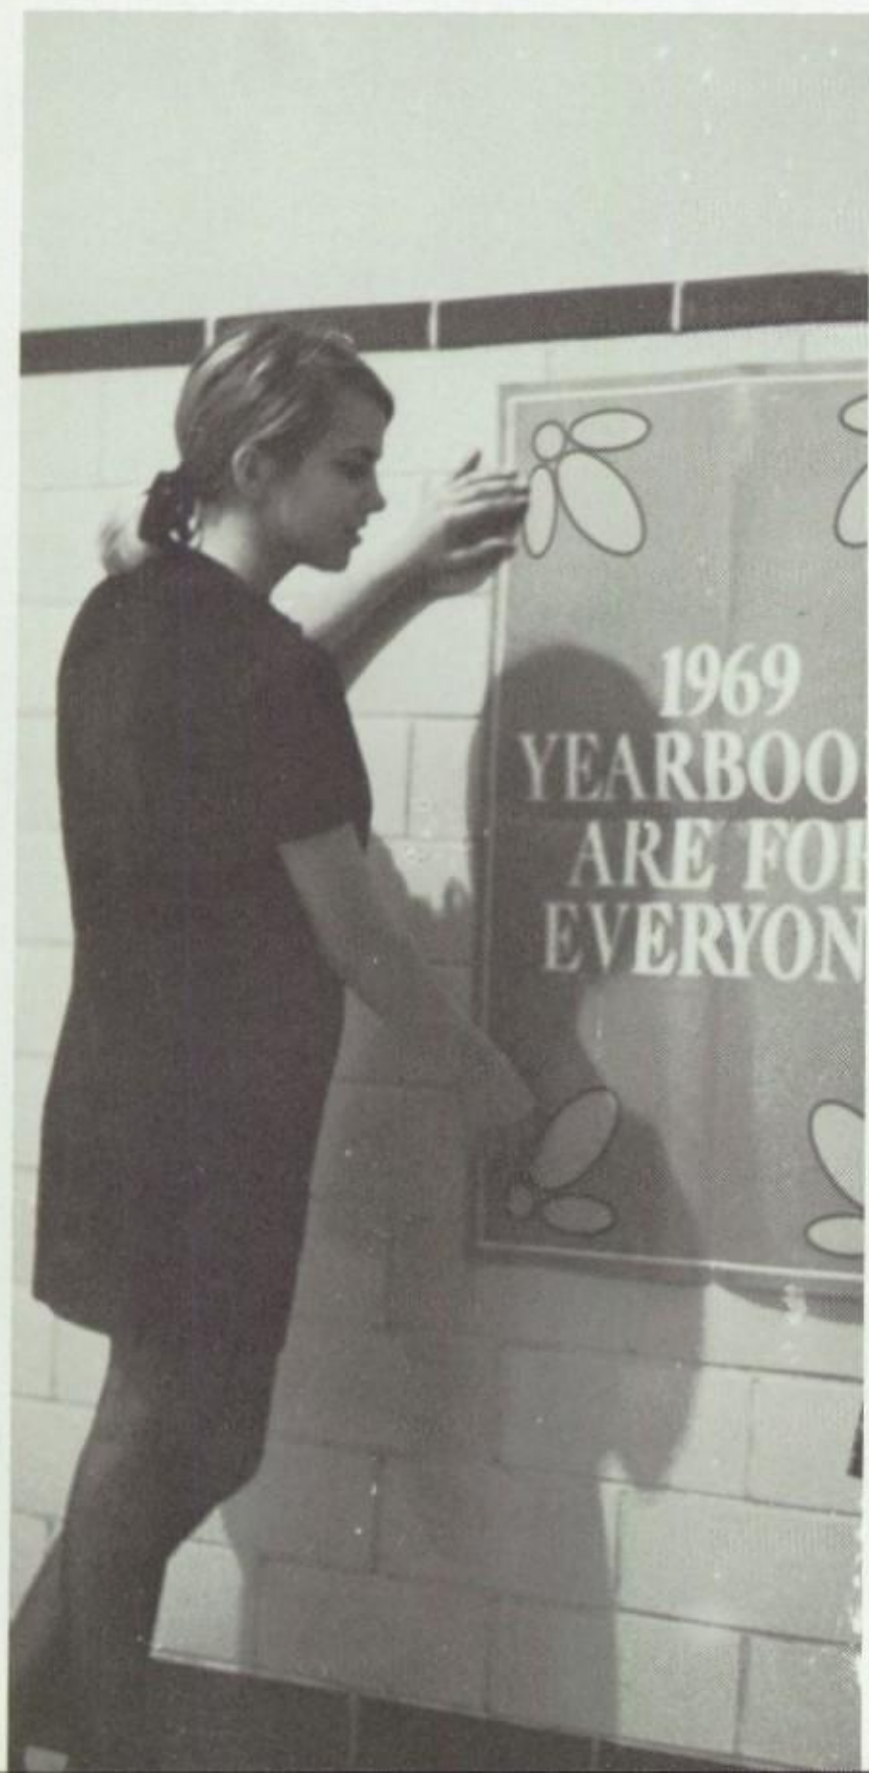

Brian,

What can I say that hasn't been said before and sounds from the heart and not trite? It's been a very enjoyable year and rewarding one for both of us in Dramatics. Keep up your wonderful work and you'll achieve the gold star on your dressing room for which you yearn.

Best of Luck

student life

To a student happiness is homecoming ... making posters ... the senior assembly ... pioneer week ... pep assemblies ... electing class officers ... getting a car ... and most of all, being an active part of the student body.

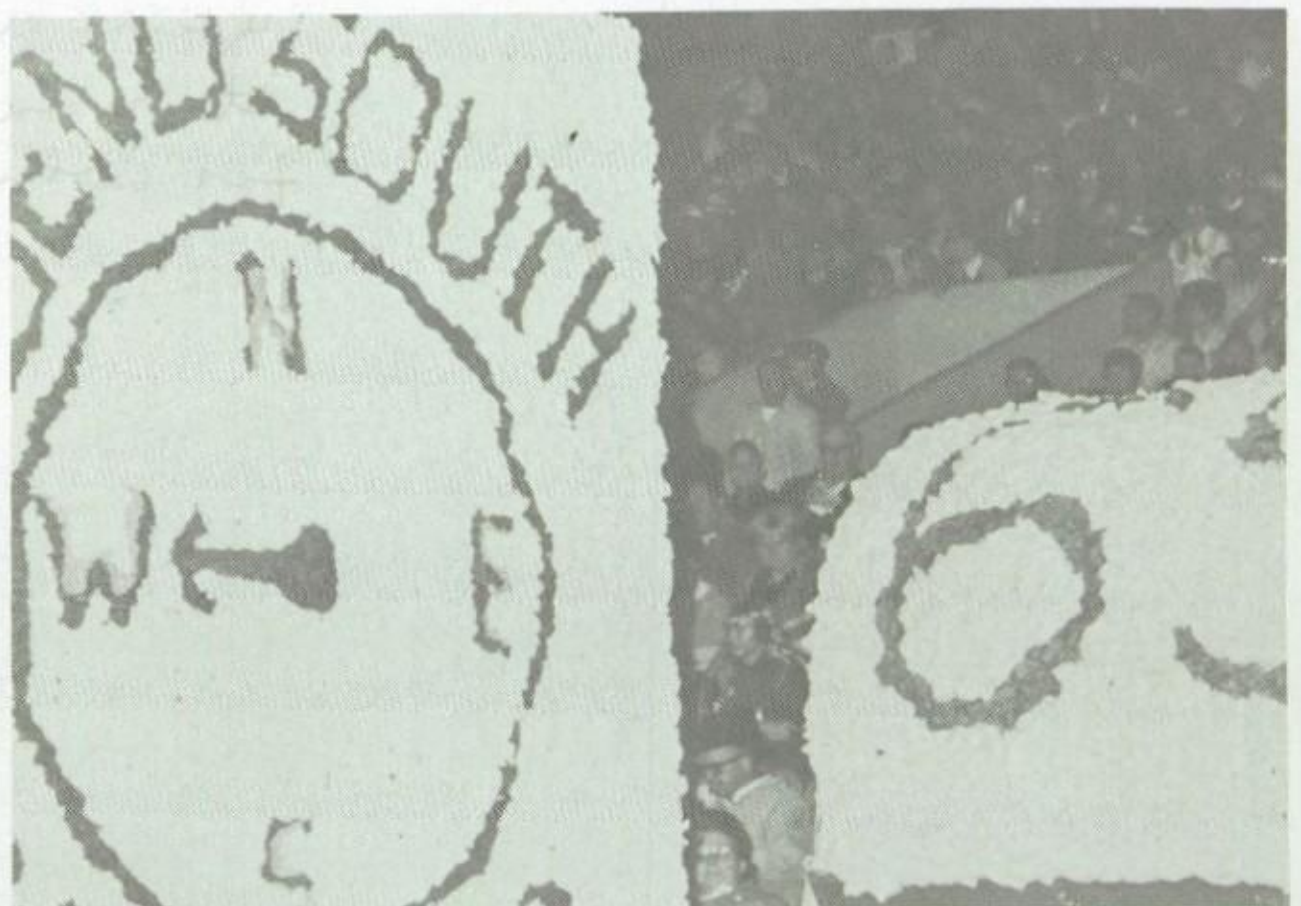

Co-editor Jeanne Heatherly presents prizes to "Cutest Clause" winners, Mr. Charles Emmons, Jr., and Mrs. Sandra Miller.

Varsity cheerleaders help boost school spirit in leading the snake dance.

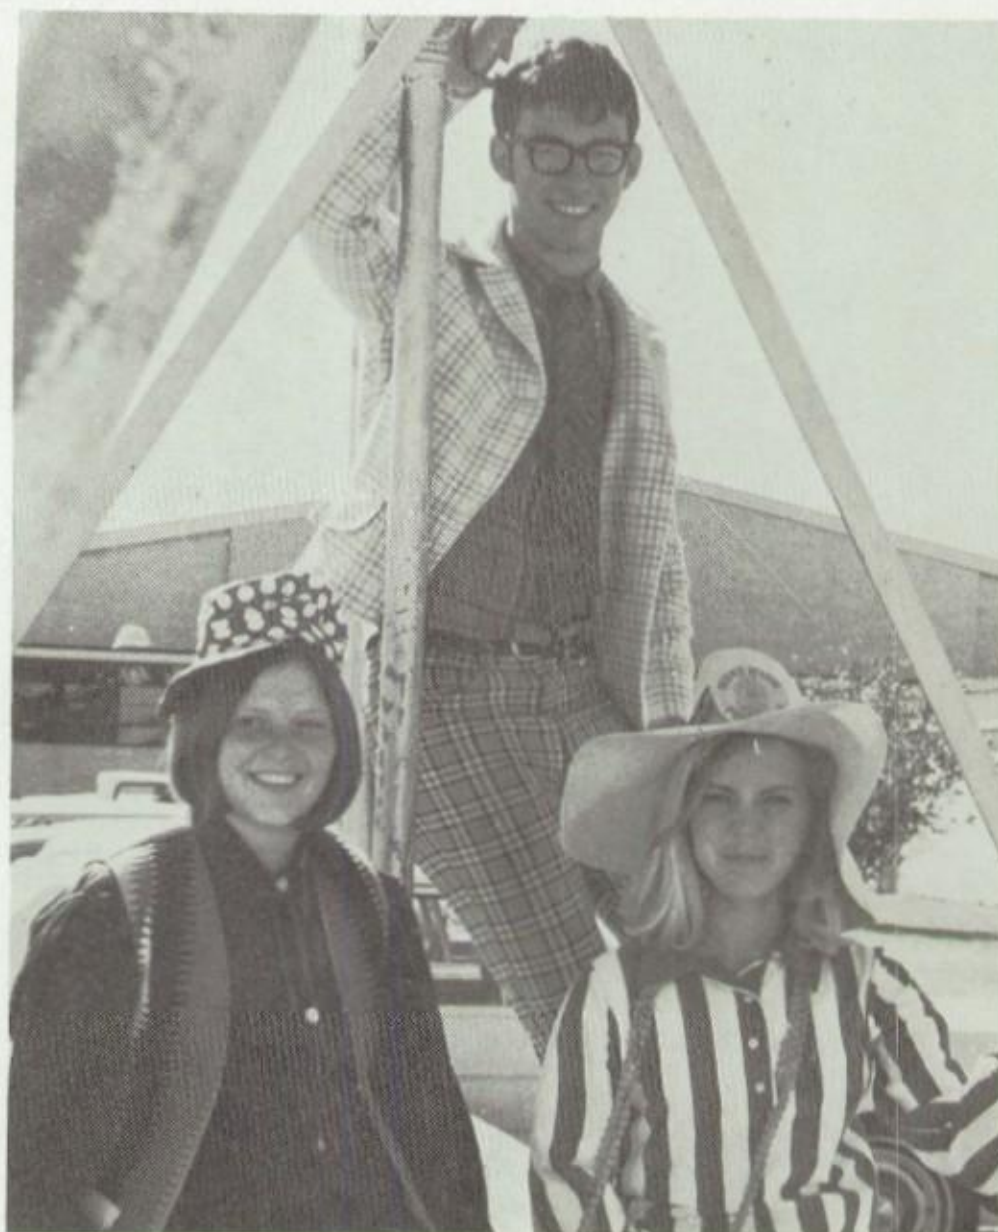

For the third consecutive year, the class of '69 wins the float contest.

spirit

special events encourage strong feelings

Seniors Jack Garlach, Linda Clawson, and Cindy Glover show their spirit on Clash Day.

Engrossed in a basketball game are juniors Mark Billman and John Aley.

School spirit at West was often rallied by such things as cheering the football and basketball teams on to victory, the posters so painstakingly painted and hung, and this year, the new idea of Pioneer Week.

One of the days in this week was Teacher Appreciation Day where students were especially nice to their teachers and presented them with shined apples and candy.

Clash Day practically explains itself. All those who participated wore various mixed and matched stripes, plaids, and polka dots and reds, purples, and greens. Other activities during Pioneer Week were Boot Day, Stuffed Animal Day, and Pioneer Day.

The spirit was also upheld by the various groups involved in raising enthusiasm in the student body, including cheerleaders, Pep Club, and Lettermen.

small crews deck halls in yuletide glory

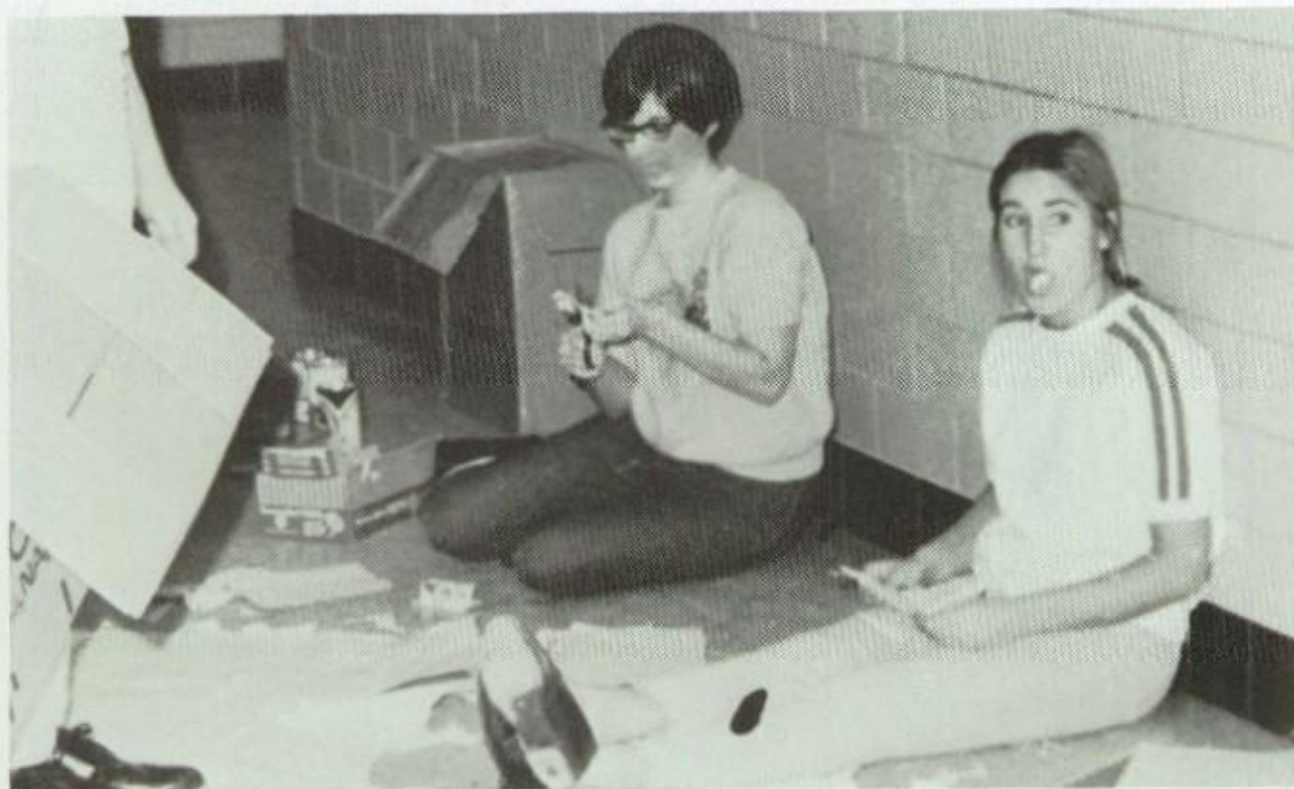

Nancy Neal works diligently at putting up Christmas decorations.

Letterwoman Linda Atkison is aided by a fellow student in putting up decorations on the bulletin board at the end of D-corridor.

Many clubs cooperated to decorate the school for Christmas. Christmas spirit was evident as many students spent time before and after school preparing decorations.

Student Council assigned each club an area to decorate, and gave prizes for the best decorations. The prizes were $10, $7, and $5.

Future Secretaries club won first prize for the decorations in E-corridor with "Santa's Workshop" as a theme.

Second place was won by a new group, Press Club. Its theme was "Lunar Yule" in honor of astronauts Anders, Borman, and Lovell.

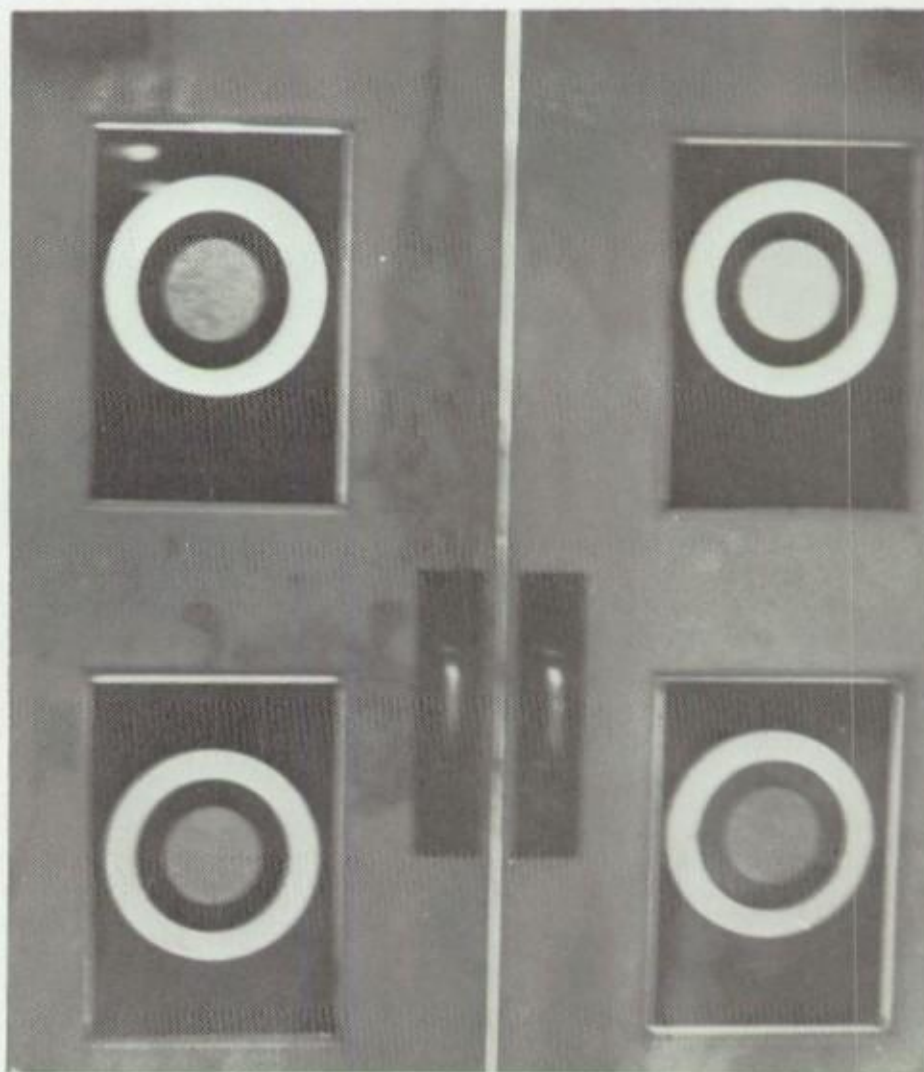

Third prize winner was the Art Club for the modern designs on the general office doors in the foyer.

Future Secretaries win the $10 prize with decorations on all the doors of E corridor.

Members of Press club take second place with their unusual theme. A lonely space capsule stands its vigil beside the pond outside H-corridor.

Art Club's Christmas decorations on the office windows win third prize.

frontier frolics

frolics raises money for all-school projects

The annual school carnival, "Frontier Frolics" took place Saturday evening, March 1. The carnival was held in and around the two gyms.

The many booths involved such activities as dart throws, fortune telling, tricycle races, pool, fortune wheels, and a marriage booth, plus many others.

The newly formed Scrub club brought a pool table to help raise money for the all-school project.

The tricycle races proved a little hazardous because of the "unsafe" tricycles, especially when they fell apart.

The carnival has proven in previous years to be a good money raising project. This year also proved to be a good year for raising money and having fun.

The booths were organized and operated by the clubs of the school. Many people came Saturday morning to decorate and finish up last-minute details.

Senior Agnes Pollock spins the Wheel of Fortune at the Spanish Honor Society booth.

Police amuse themselves as they supervise the Pioneers.

breaks in the usual day

assemblies, substitutes break daily routine

Daily routines are naturally part of life at school. Students and teachers alike appreciate a break from the routine of classes. Assemblies, locker clean-up, special events such as career day, even having a substitute teacher, create these diversions.

A variety of assemblies proved to have good entertainment and educational value for the students. One of the debate teams presented their debate on the assigned topic for the year. There were numerous choral assemblies presented through the year. Various occupational topics were discussed by guest speakers on the annual career day.

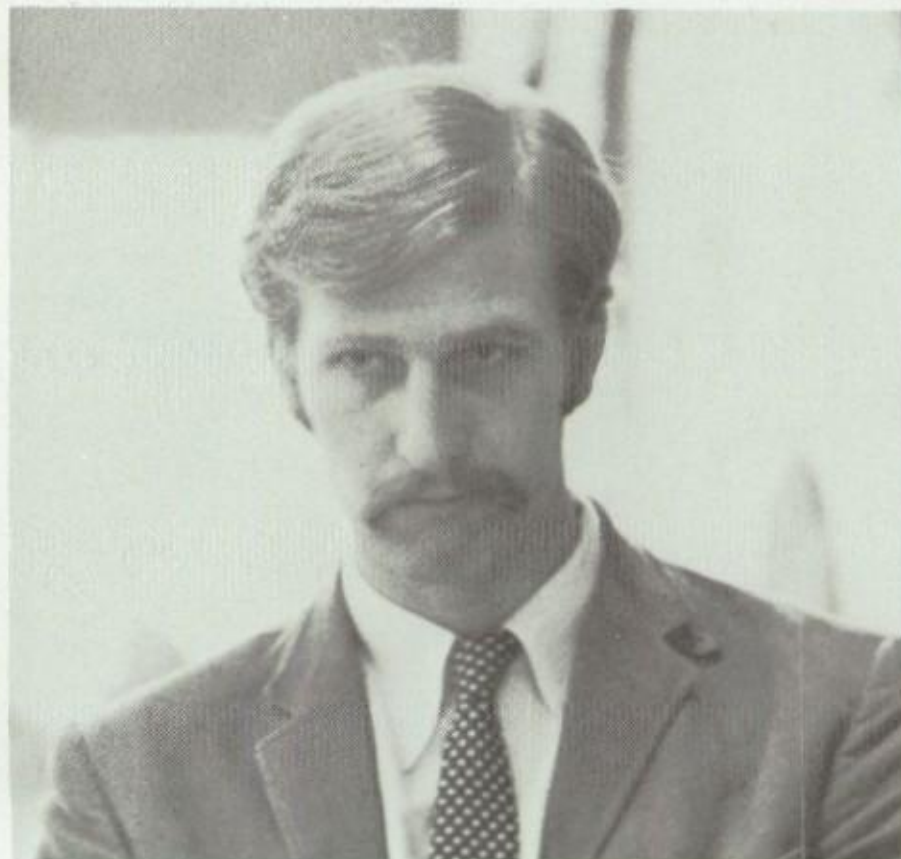

Most popular diversion among high school students are the pass cards, which enable students to be dismissed before the 3 o'clock bell.

Entering school after exercising his first hour pass privilege, Bryan Barton shows signs of disgust.

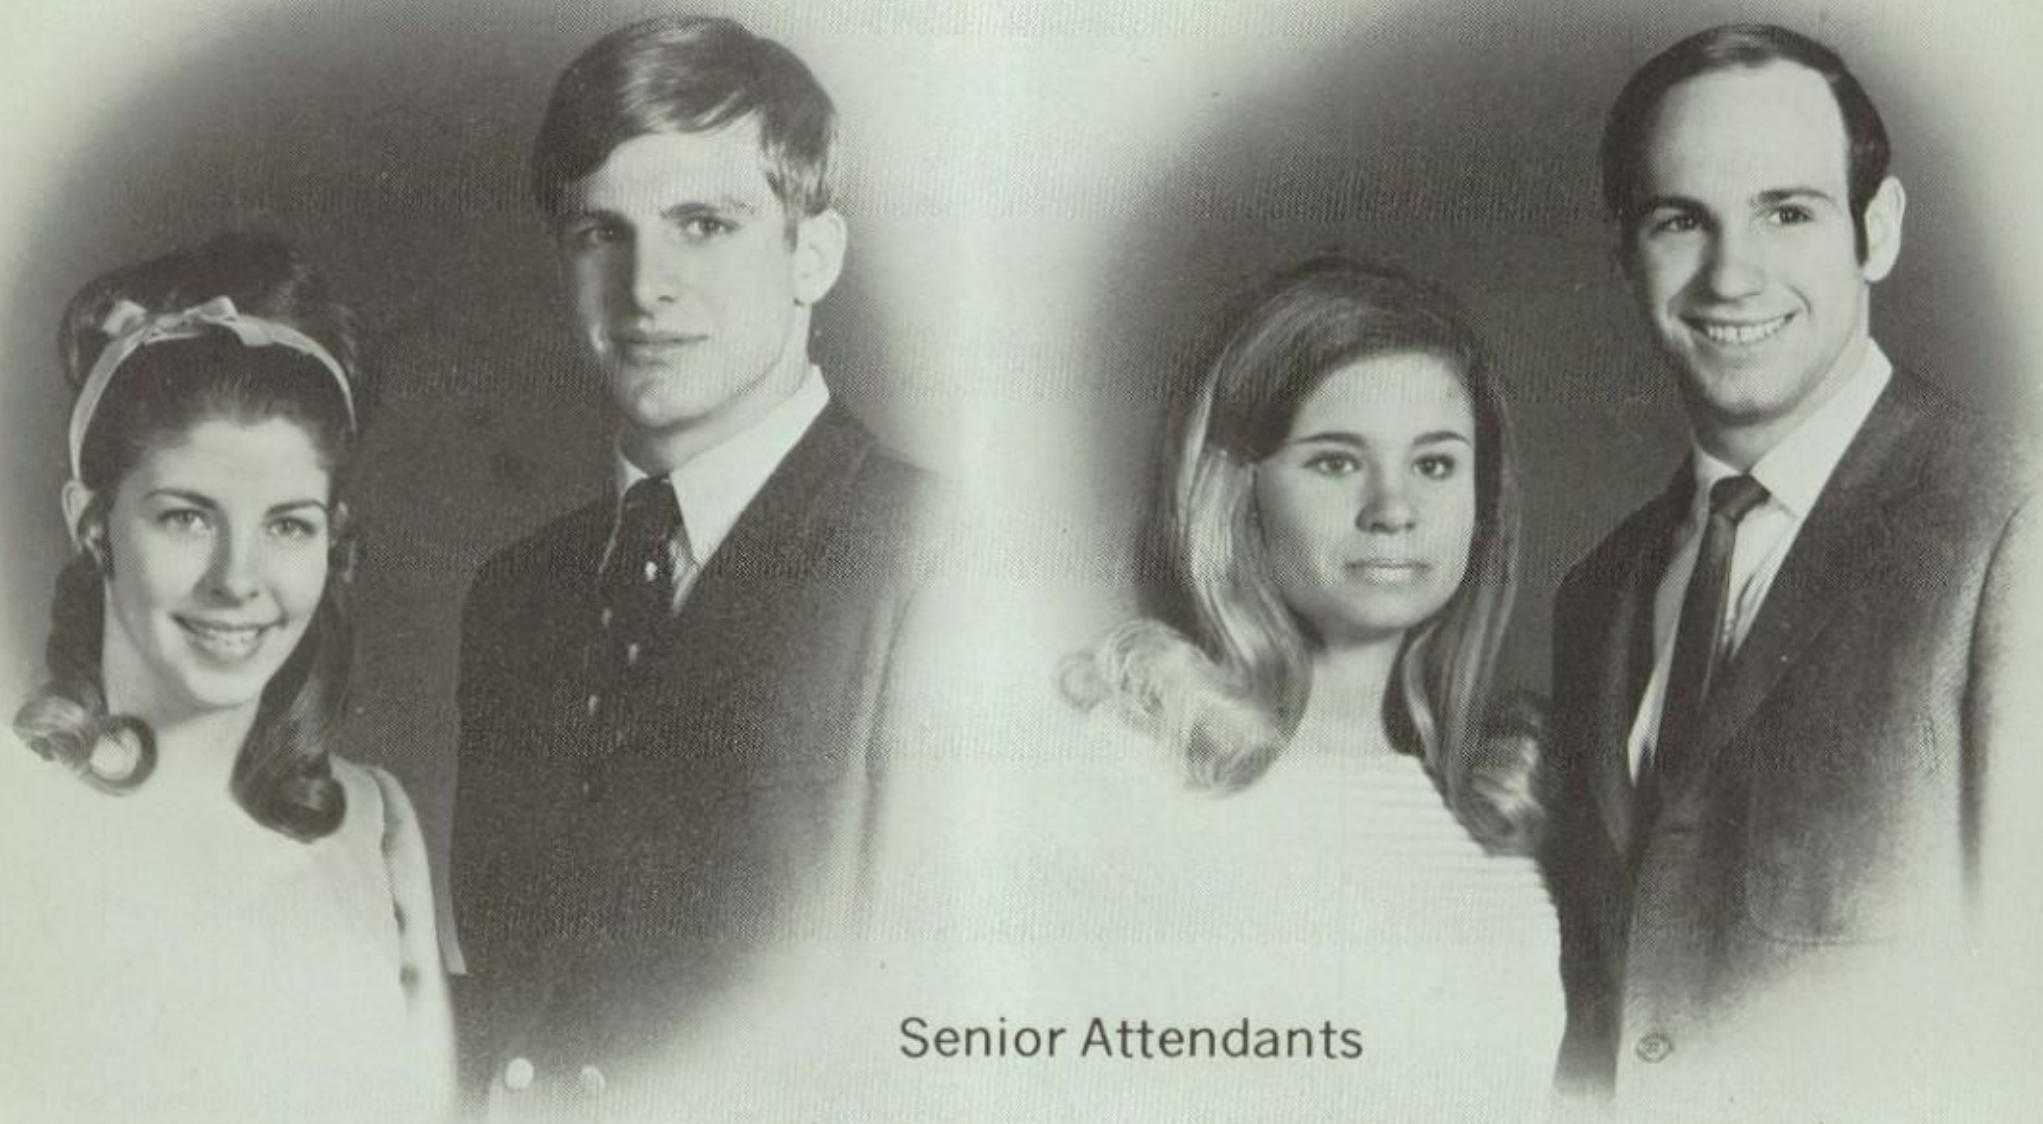

Junior Susie Saye explains the schedule to a lost career day speaker.

A sight not uncommon to students is the sight of a substitute teacher.

Cupids, hearts, and arrows brought a valentine atmosphere to the 1968-69 Winter dance. "Tojours L'Amour sponsored by Press Club and the Senior class. Decorations were organized by junior Shelley Brooks. Along with Valentine nut cups, punch was served.

Senior class president Brad Prosech announced the royalty during the evening.

Crowned King and Queen were seniors Gary Hanni and Jane Pool. Vincent Serrioz and Dorsey Long were chosen junior prince and princess.

Attendants were Seniors Kirk Doll, Lesley Long, Jerry McIntosh, Cynthia Halls and juniors Bob Larson, and Christy Axford.

Crown bearers were Linda Lee and Nils Gabrielson.

Music was provided by "A Bit Much."

The first major dance of the year, entitled "Homecoming Happening," took place Saturday, November 9, in the West High cafeteria. The Centurians provided the music. The dance was sponsored by the Pep Club and planned by their social chairman, Susie Heeb. Centerpieces consisted of maroon and gold goalposts and small gold footballs.

Royalty for the dance were Nancy Clutter, queen, and Kenny Bennett, king. The senior attendants were Heidi Johnson and Tom Fredrickson. Terri Sherrill and Mike Adam served as junior attendants. The sophomore prince and princess were Trecia Doshier and Rod Winder.

Corky Brown and Susie Heeb were senior runners-up. The juniors were Steve Koontz and Deane Cox. Second sophomore attendants were Ray Kirk and Marty Willis.

emotions revealed by various expressions

Facial expressions are the most revealing trait of any person — a swift smile to a friend or a jovial burst of laughter. An expression of contempt, of apathy. Expressions of sadness, of seriousness, of boredom — all reveal the way a person feels and what he is thinking. Here we try to depict some of the everyday expressions of the students and teachers.

achievements determined by past activities

The partially completed Century II was dedicated January 11. The first event held was a Science and Art Exhibit by all the Wichita schools.

Political rivals in the 1968 presidential race were Richard M. Nixon and Hubert H. Humphrey. After an exciting campaign and close election, Nixon emerged as the victor.

The year of 1968-69 has cast in our minds many lasting memories of events that affected the state of Kansas as well as the entire United States.

The beautiful $13 million Century II civic center was started in the middle of 1968 and finished in the latter part of that year. For the first time in the history of Wichita, the inauguration of a governor took place here.

The outlook of the war in Viet Nam was changed slightly when the Paris peace talks were started.

The future for some peoples' lives was changed also because of the heart transplants and new drugs being developed.

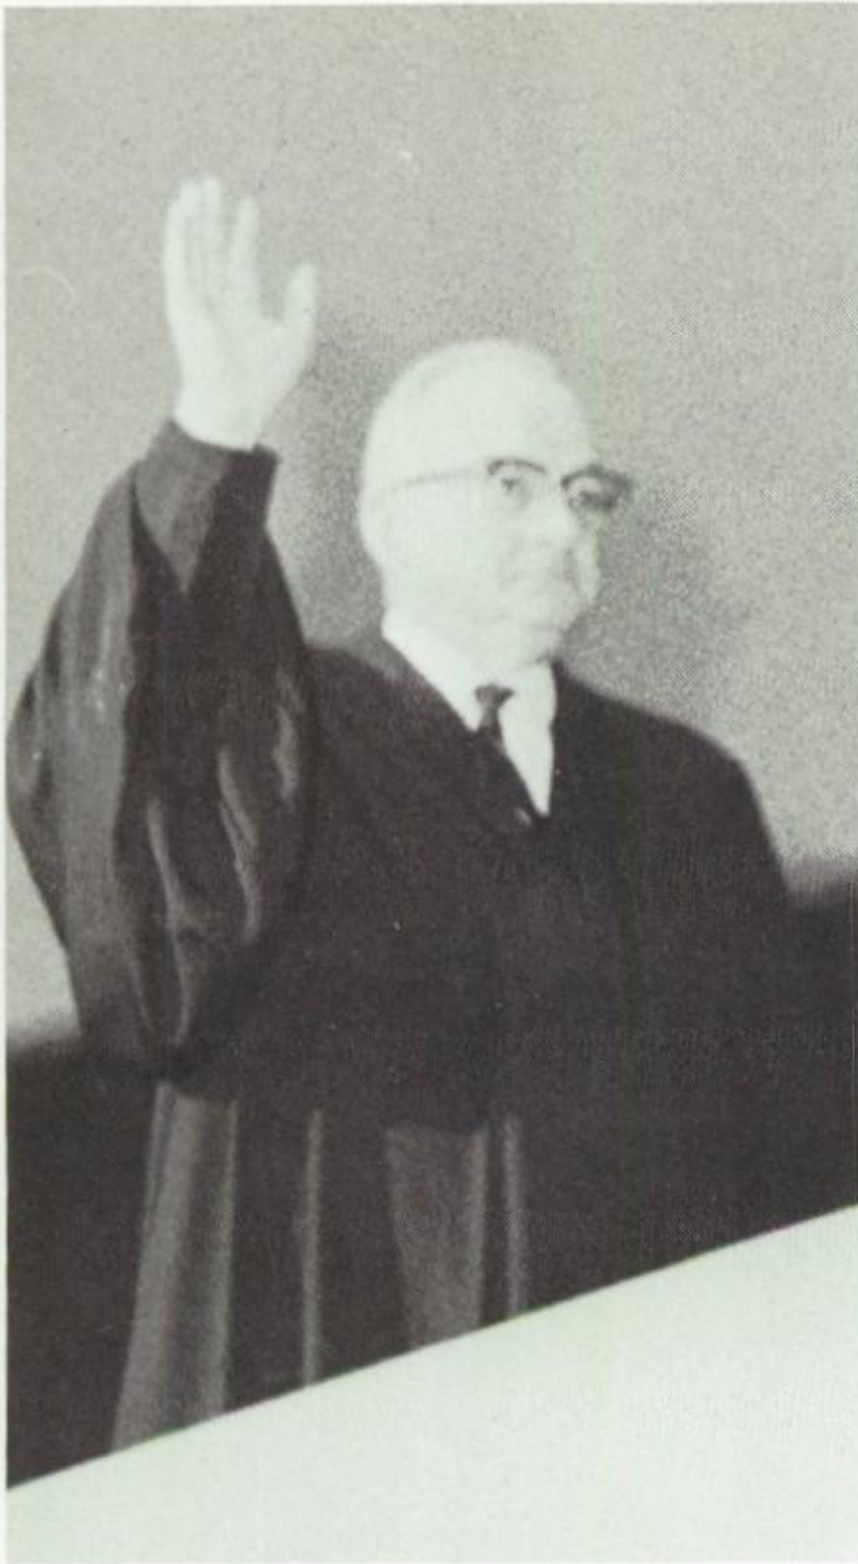

Nineteen sixty-eight was the year of many tears and cheers because of the elections, especially the race between winner Richard Nixon and Hubert Humphrey. They were happy years for the Wichita Heights Band, which had the honor of attending the inauguration of President Richard M. Nixon as the only band representative from Kansas.

Every year has its sadder points, and 1968 was no different. Many people fell victim to the flu epidemic that spread from coast to coast.

To end 1968 and leave a challenge for the following year, the United States made a successful shot toward the moon with the Apollo VIII. A once talked-about dream was now the reality of someday landing on the moon.

This was a year of great accomplishments and wondrous feats, the year of 1968-69.

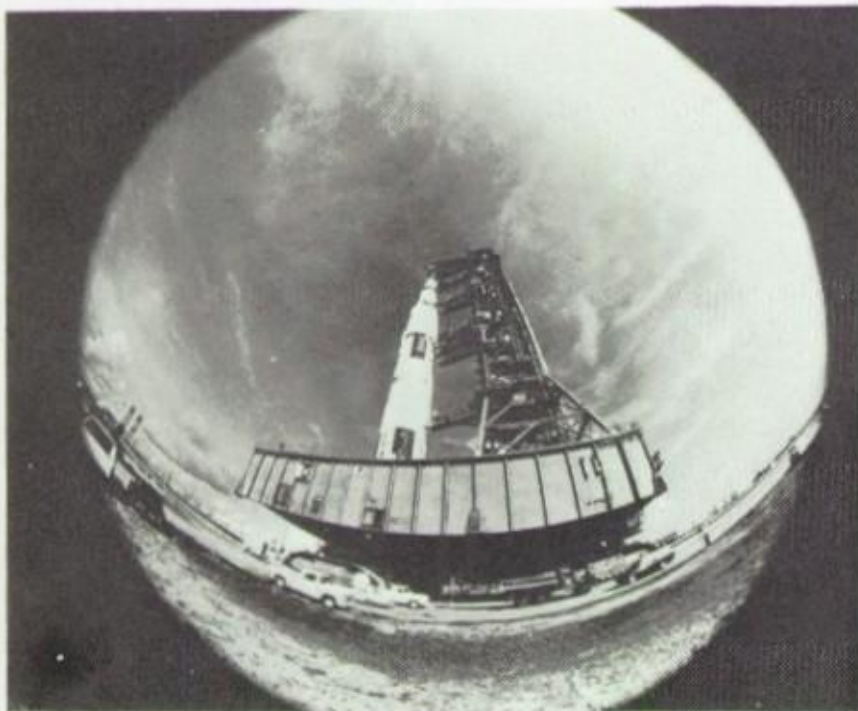

In the first history-making gubernatorial inauguration held in Wichita, Chief Justice Robert Price swears in one of the newly elected officials.

Showing his exuberance upon being elected to second term as governor is Robert B. Docking.

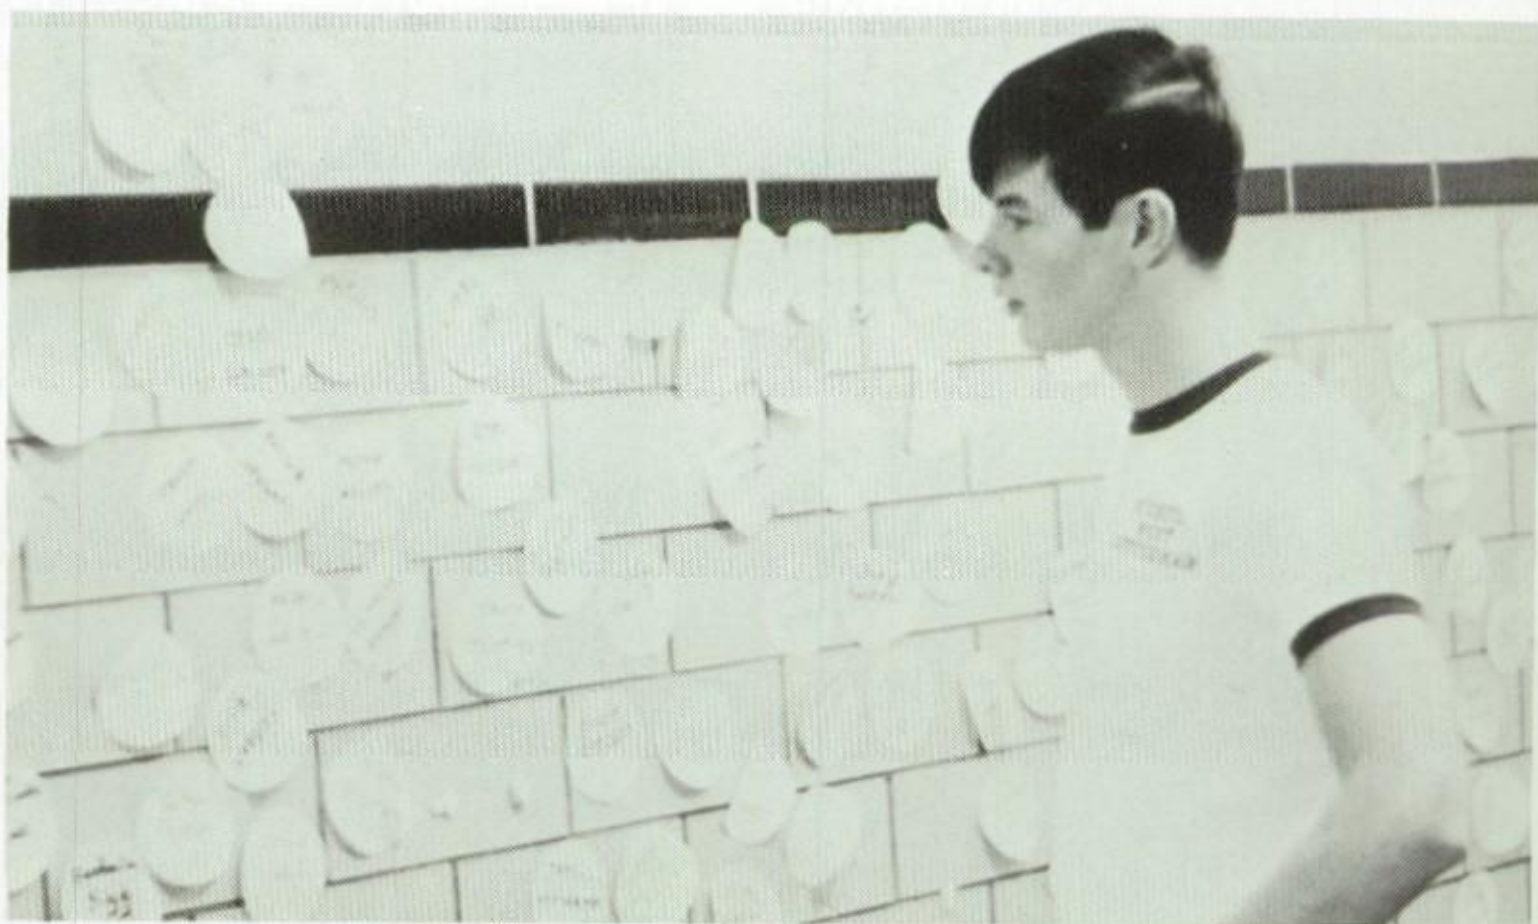

Scientific advancements in the space research program were furthered by the Apollo VIII "Moon shot."

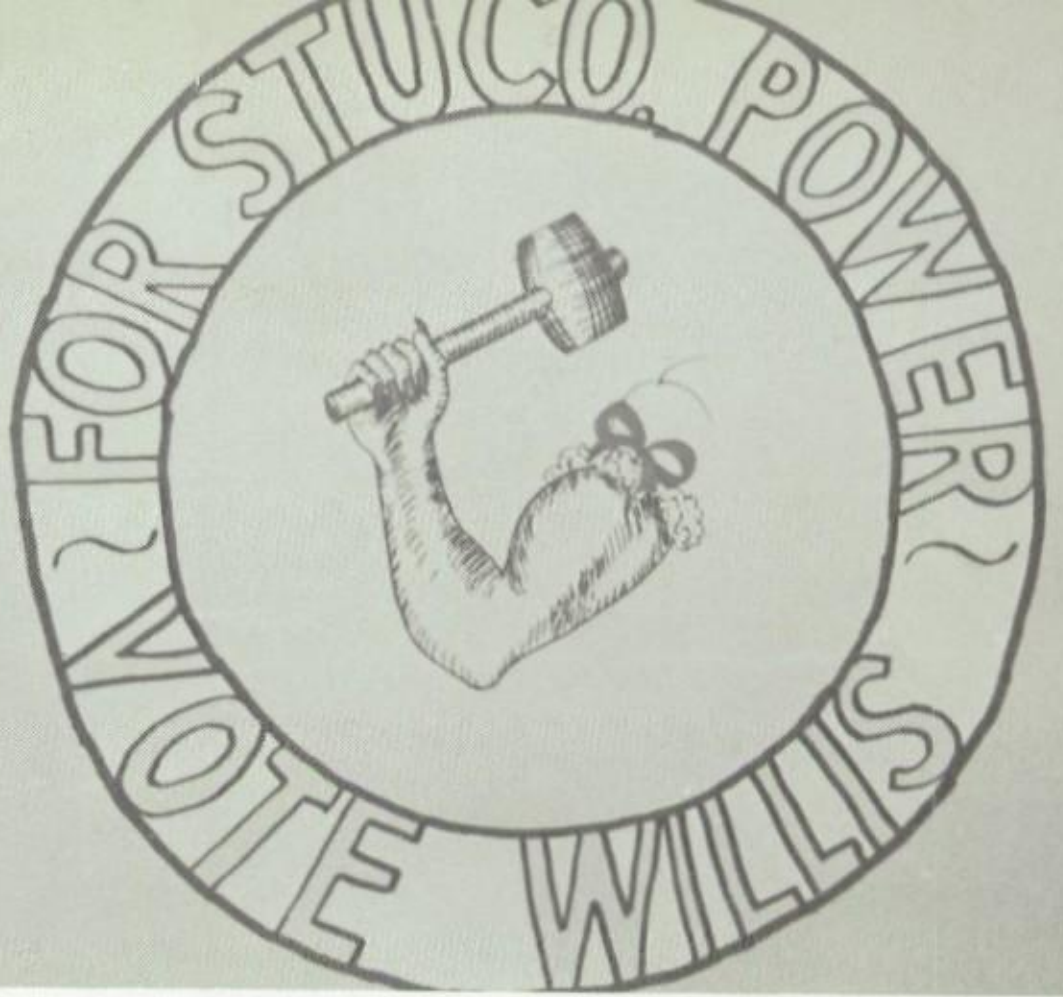

Much hard work enabled the Wichita Heights Falcons Band to be Kansas' official representatives in the Nixon Inaugural Parade.

interests

To a club member, happiness is yelling a cheer ... calling a meeting to order ... winning a prize ... wearing a symbol of membership ... choosing a project ... posing for a special picture ... participating in school activities ... thrilling to a drum beat ... and most of all, being a part of something worthwhile.

keen leadership encourages activity, spirit

Student Council officers Steve Palmer and Cynthia Halls look on as Gail Kaegi expresses her views.

For the United Fund Drive, Student Council raised money by presenting a satire of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs with the football team as the actors. The total amount raised was $1,000.

Another money-raising project sponsored by Student Council was the KEYN-Cheerleader basketball game. The annual Christmas Auction assembly was held, and 750 pounds of goods and $326 were donated to Operation Holiday as a result. Other projects included Christmas decorations and planning a Frontier Frolics different from any other.

After much discussion and delay the all-school project was decided upon and financed by magazine sales. A Xerox copier was purchased for the library to be used by the students and teachers. Help was given to the Lettermen's Club to purchase additional trophy cases. Financed by Student Council was a mural made by the Art Department to decorate the office door.

early deadlines, conflicts cause hectic year

There were a total of nine staffers consisting of two juniors and seven seniors. Recruiting for the staff members began early last year. A Journalism II credit was given for the first time to students not enrolled in Journalism II.

In addition to the work, there was relaxation. The sponsor, Mrs. Shirley Gabrielson, invited the staff to her house for a chili feed. Time was also taken to go to Cowtown on a picture-taking spree.

A kind of closeness began to exist as outside influences tried to determine how the yearbook should be put together. It was a feeling of "My staff, right or wrong — but my staff." There were the usual number of group disagreements on how pages should be arranged, but it was a united front that was seen by outsiders.

Because of earlier deadlines, the staff was able to enlarge the book by twenty pages. Members of the Trail staff came early and stayed late many times in order to meet those deadlines.

After-school work meant more leisure, freedom, and activity.

west word

large, able staffs contribute to expansion

Kathy DeWitt browses through a bound volume of old copies of the paper while Nancy Ridder works on a story for a current edition.

A larger staff has enabled the journalism classes to put out more pages of the newspaper. The two classes, consisting of juniors and seniors, alternated being in charge of the paper.

Again this year the West journalism department had charge of editing and compiling articles from other schools for the American Education Week newspaper. Diann Pledger was the editor-in-chief under the supervision of Mrs. Shirley Gabrielson. Also during American Education Week, some of the students on the staff were invited to KARD-TV to present a typical classroom scene to be telecast at a later date.

Second semester brought a change in the routine of the West Word staffs. They published for the first time a magazine which contained samples of student work in the areas of poetry, short stories, art, and photography. These were channeled through the regular classes by English teachers.

Some minor explorations were made into radio and television.

Evaluation of other schools' publications is important to beginning journalists.

Rushing the paper to meet an early deadline requires hurrying fourth hour activities.

Fifth hour's fledgling staff is guided by novice editors Shirley Wilson, Kathleen Donham, Corky Brown, Debbie Oler, Steve Dillard, Jacque White, and Kathy Myers.

Requirements for membership included a grade point average of at least 3.5 and good qualities of character, leadership, and citizenship.

Two members, Agnes Pollock and Tom Rudkin, were semi-finalists in the National Honor Society Scholarship Contest.

Activities through the year included presenting a skit for Longfellow Elementary fun night, a Thespian play at the end of the year directed by Karen Ross, and a formal banquet. There were about 25 members in the club and Mrs. Nancy Lackey was the sponsor.

Y-Teens is affiliated with the local Young Women's Christian Association and is able to use all Y facilities. They help to support the local YWCA and contribute to their projects as a result of this connection.

Susan Hunnicutt was elected to be West's representative to the city-wide council.

Dissension within the club made it a difficult year for great accomplishments, but with those resolved, the group made more progress.

An active Future Secretaries Club is the only such high school group in Wichita; it is a division of the National Secretaries Association.

Each year a local adult member of the national group sponsors a high school member on a day-long visit to her office. At least two other field trips to local offices are made by the entire group.

Their major project is the planning and carrying out of the spring awards banquet for the Business Department.

Students enrolled in the work experience Office Education class are members of the Office Education Club.

One of their earliest projects is the parent-employer tea held just before the Christmas holidays.

They fared well both as individuals and as a group at the state and national conventions in competition with similar groups.

One project that kept them busy was doing a share in the annual city-wide FTA workshop held at Wichita State University. Judy Renz was secretary of the city group.

As a service to the school, members served as hosts for the open house in November.

Programs included films, guest speakers, and planning for Frontier Frolics and Christmas decorations.

The major project of the Future Medical Careers Club was the annual financing of a $100 scholarship for a member who was committed to entering the profession.

In addition to their own speakers, they participated in a mass program with all the similar clubs in the city.

Field trips included a trip to the Halstead Health Museum in the spring and an early fall trip to Washburn University in Topeka under the sponsorship of the March of Dimes.

sales campaigns allow school, gallery trips

Workmen prepare to hang a panel made by the art classes on a wall in the auditorium.

Strictly a senior club, membership to Art Club was limited to those seniors enrolled in an art class. For those interested in additional art activity, Mr. Roger Dale had meetings in his room every other Tuesday evening.

A membership fee of $5 was used to pay for materials the members used.

A number of fund-raising activities were held at school and on Saturdays. The first was a boutique sale in the foyer of the auditorium. Articles in the possession of the Art Department and paper and feather flowers made by club members were sold for a profit of $50.

A bake sale was held in a local shopping center and netted $20. A garage sale included articles contributed by all club members. Participation was required in order for members to be eligible for a trip to the University of Kansas art show. Art exhibits throughout the city were visited by club members during the year.

The club won third place in the decorating contest at Christmas time by decorating the office door and the display case. A booth was operated at Frontier Frolics and a prize was given in the Operation Holidays assembly.

seniors add to wins, novices start records

Twenty-one debaters brought nine trophies back to West during the season which ended January 11 with the regional tournament at Great Bend. Before entering the district matches, the team had compiled a total won-lost record of 342 wins to only 106 losses, a record of 76.4% wins.

John Pfeifer and Alan Linder carried their novice record to a fruitful completion as they won three more trophies as experienced debaters. They had helpful back-up work from the entire squad, of course.

Debaters won all three first places at the Valley Center Novice Tournament, but, since only one trophy is allowed for each school, contented themselves with bringing home the first-place award. Other firsts were in the novice tournament at Wichita Southeast and in the Power Match at Wellington. The novices also won a second-place trophy at Campus.

Debate has been a scheduled activity at West only since the early 1960's when Mr. Glenn Blakemore started the program. The squad offered little competition those first years, but more recent groups have more than made up for any lack in the beginning.

lettermen, letterwomen, gymnastics

sports organizations add interest, support

Seemingly intent on the game, lettermen sit in their designated section at the Field House.

The wall of J-Corridor was completely filled with the new trophy cases arranged for by the Lettermen's Club. After a plea from Dr. Edwin Friesen for additional space to display the many athletic trophies being won by the teams, the club voted to take on the installation as the year's major project. The entire north wall was covered with the seven cases, which were built by non-club members at a cost of nearly a thousand dollars.

The major money-raising projects for the group were the selling of programs and concessions at home games.

Although the club was perhaps a little smaller than in recent years because of the outside-of-school meeting times, it was an active and dedicated group.

They participated in most all-school projects including Frontier Frolics.

Letterwomen at West is a small group but each year its number grows. Eleven members support the club compared to six the year before.

To be in the club, one must earn 400 points. Points can be earned by going out for the various after-school sports.

During the year the girls sold candy to raise money for use in a chosen project. The biggest event for the group was hosting a junior high playday. All the girls who would attend West from junior highs were invited.

A new look in clubs was the girls gymnastics team. The girls performed at five meets and ended the season with a city league meet.

Five events were offered to participants: uneven parallel bars, balance beam, side horse vaulting, free exercise, and long mat tumbling. Interested girls stayed after school and practiced for a certain period of time. The girls then performed before Mrs. Jean Beirig and were chosen on their merits for squad membership.

intelligence, participation gain recognition

In 1965 the Trail staff began what was hoped would become a tradition, the selection of Trail Blazers. The purpose was to honor six seniors who should be recognized for outstanding accomplishments.

This is the fifth year that the Trail staff has presented Trail Blazers. They are nominated and elected by faculty members. To be a Trail Blazer, a senior must have at least a 3.0 grade average through four years of school. Other qualities necessary include leadership, contributions to the school, and citizenship.

These honorees represent all areas in the school — music, athletics, clubs, art, and more. All have accumulated a higher than necessary grade average, and their courses of study were not selected for their ease or simplicity.

Active in Student Council as a representative her sophomore year and treasurer of Stu-Co as a junior, Gail Kaegi was elected president of Student Council as a senior. Under her leadership, Student Council raised over $1,000 for the United Fund.

Gail's other activities included playing an active part in Pep Club, including Honor Pep, and in her junior year, Cabinet Council. She was honored by West students this year when she was chosen West's Best. In addition to her school activities, Gail is a member of Methodist Youth Fellowship and Junior 20th Century. After high school, she plans to attend college at Kansas State University.

Bruce Bitler, a member of Lettermen's Club during his senior year, was President of the West High Band and President of National Honor Society. Bruce also participated in the German and Key Clubs. As a senior he was a National Merit Semifinalist and ranked at the top of the city's graduating class with a 4.0 grade average. This year he was honored as West's Best. He has also been asked to speak to various civic groups.

Along with his scholastic abilities, Bruce enjoys water skiing and was a member of the cross country and track squads. He plans to continue his education next year at the University of Kansas where he will be studying chemical engineering.

Heidi Johnson, a member of Thespians, participated in a number of plays during her three years at West. During her sophomore year she was a member of Pep Club and was a varsity cheerleader in her junior and senior years. At the 68-69 homecoming dance, she was a senior attendant. She participated in Student Council as a class representative and maintained a straight-A grade average. Next year she plans to go to school in Europe and study languages.

A drive for excellence has been the goal for Steve Putman, both in the classroom and on the field. He maintained a strong B average all through high school, and a variety of studies has aided his preparation for college. Recognition in athletics is not new to Steve. He has been a member of Lettermen's Club for all three years by virtue of seven letters. As a senior, Steve was named to three all-star football squads.

John Pfeifer's primary contribution came in the field of debate. John won four trophies in his junior year and five as a senior. He took a first place with an Extemporaneous Speech award. John's activities outside of school have been primarily in radio and electronics. This interest led him to be the youngest licensed first class operator in Kansas. After graduation, John plans to attend the University of Kansas and major in electricity or physics.

Diana Gurley, in orchestra all three of her years at West, was first chair cello during her junior and senior years. This year she was elected president of the orchestra council. Maintaining an honor roll grade average, she was also an officer of French Club and a member of Pep Club and National Honor Society. She is also a member of Teen-Airs. Next year Diana hopes to attend Ottawa University.

The cheerleaders wait anxiously for plane take-off.

"Flight into Danger," the first all-school play of the year, was presented October 17 and 19 in the auditorium, directed by Mrs. Nancy Lackey.

The drama centered around the passengers and crew of a chartered airline on the way to a big football game. Enroute, a serious case of food poisoning broke out among the passengers and crew; both the pilot and the co-pilot were affected. Only one man aboard had the experience to land the plane, but he had flown only light planes.

After hours of tense flight, the plane was safely landed.

The captain explains to Dr. Baird that he, too, has food poisoning.

Ground control keeps steady contact with the aircraft.

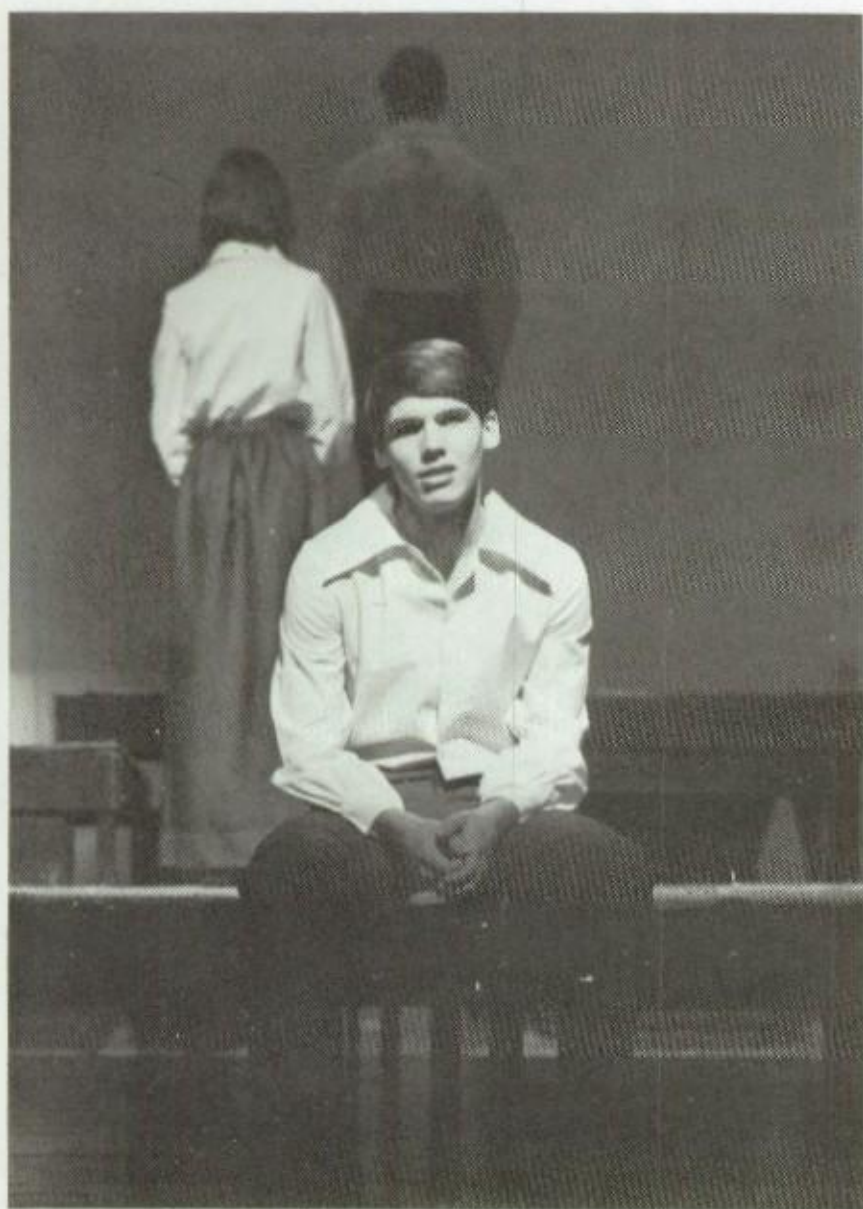

Ticket agent Mary answers Mr. Spencer's questions before boarding his flight.

"spoon river anthology"

graveyard, epitaphs, spooks make up play

A story without a plot provided much suspense for the second all-school play of the year. Edgar Lee Masters' "Spoon River Anthology" was presented January 16 and 18 in the school auditorium and directed by Mrs. Nancy Lackey. Previews of the play were given to all the English Classes Friday, January 17.

The setting for the play was a graveyard in Spoon River, Illinois. All the characters portrayed had died and before the eyes of the audience came alive to tell their life stories. Some showed contempt for the way they had lived, others showed remorse, and others showed pleasure.

Eight actors and actresses were selected and each enacted three or more parts. A group of folk singers helped make the change of characters and the moods of the play smoother and helped carry out the theme.

Props and a curtain were not used during the play because of the unusual staging which consisted of many platforms at various heights and levels. The actors on stage turned their backs on the audience when they did not have speaking parts. As an actor spoke, the spotlight was focused on him.

Kenny Arnold, portraying one of his many characters, explains the life he led before death.

Unique staging adds depth to the mood of the play.

pep club, honor pep

active members participate, receive honor

An example of excitement is displayed by the Pep Club at the Kapaun game in the West gym.

Revised rules and stricter requirements have limited the size of Honor Pep. It is ruled that all home games and half of the other games must be attended, a minimum of twenty posters; five hours of work on pep club projects; must attend two B or sophomore football games; must attend two cross country meets. These requirements have helped generate more spirit toward minor sports. All the cheerleaders are automatically accepted as members of Honor Pep since requirements for cheerleaders are much higher than those for Honor Pep.

Money making projects of the pep club included selling stretched bottles, sweatshirts, jerseys, and night shirts, and partaking in the Operation Holidays assembly. A change from previous years is that the pep club was only in charge of sponsoring one dance this year. Miss Marilyn Bartel was the main adult sponsor of the Pep Club.

Cheerleaders were kept busy through the year with supporting enthusiasm for teams in football, basketball, cross country, and all other sports.

The varsity cheerleaders had bake sales and other money-raising projects during the summer to buy new leather football uniforms.

For the second year, B-team cheerleaders were chosen by the Pep Club. They were elected early enough so they could participate in football season as well as in basketball season.

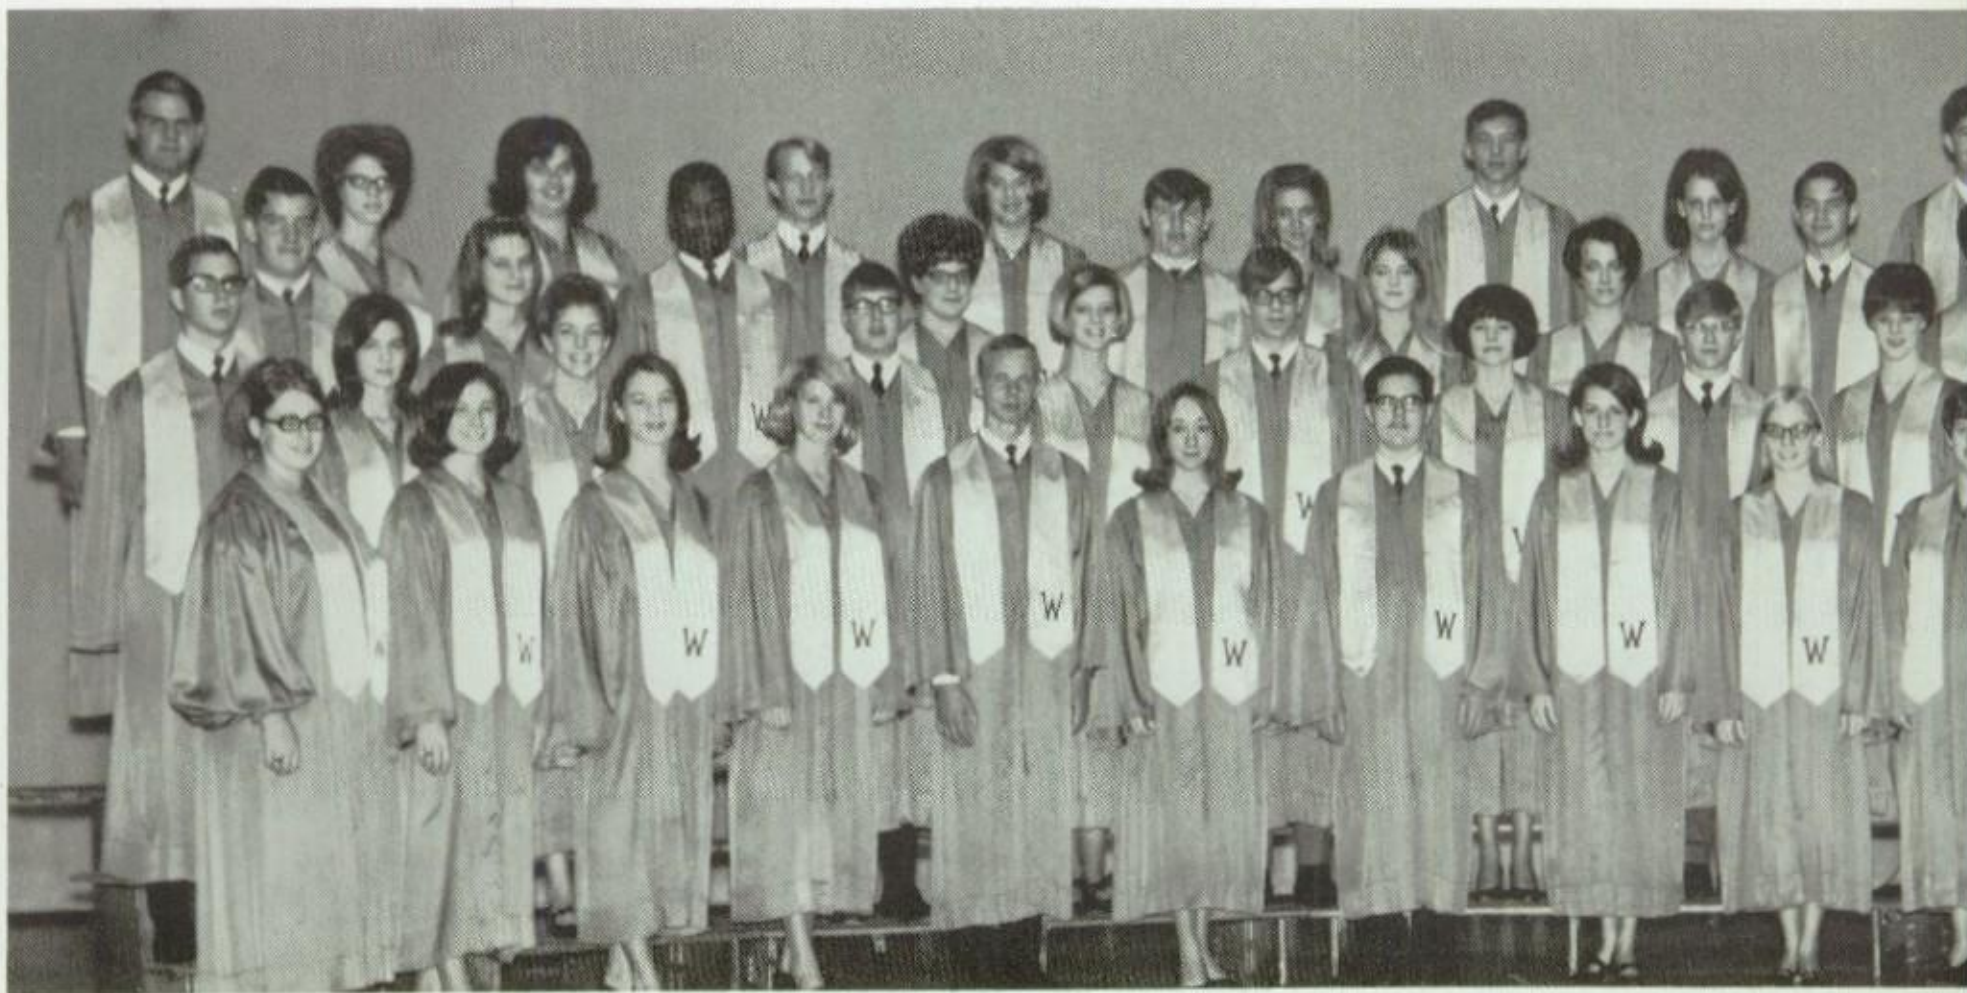

Keeping Pep Club running smoothly was Cabinet Council's big job. During the year, they planned pep assemblies, poster parties, and other similar activities. The biggest event was the Homecoming dance in November, which was planned and executed by the entire Pep Club.

Band twirlers provided half-time entertainment during football games as they marched in front of the band and performed routines for the audience. It is not a requirement that twirlers also play an instrument, so they were able to concentrate on their twirling routines and to perfect them.

In addition to the traditional public performances by the choir and vocal ensembles — Thanksgiving assembly, Christmas programs with the singing Christmas tree, and those in honor of other holidays — the groups made countless trips to other schools and to perform for civic organizations.

All singing ensembles wear matched costumes which are changed every year. The choir donned the school's light blue-gray robes while the sophomore girls wore gold dresses. Westerners wore blue and turquoise outfits and the Hi-Larks chose red jumpers with black and white jackets trimmed with lace.

Mrs. Sandra Miller returned to direct the sophomores and the Hi-Larks; she had spent the previous year teaching in Kansas City. Mr. J. Ellis Jackson continued as head of the department and director of the other ensembles.

instrumental music

reorganization builds strength, versatility

Music played an important part this year in the lives of many students — the members of the West High orchestra and bands, under the direction of Mr. Charles Emmons, presented a wide variety of classical and contemporary music in several concerts and school assemblies.

In a combined effort, the orchestra and the choir presented Christmas Vespers on the evening of Saturday, December 14, and in two assemblies December 19. The program was one of the finest ever presented at West. The orchestra also accompanied the choir in the Easter service and provided back-up music for "Spoon River Anthology."

The orchestra made several trips to play at junior highs and out-of-town trips were planned. In the spring, the City Music Festival was held in which soloists and ensembles performed. The symphonic orchestra, soloists, and ensembles also performed in the State Music Festival. In addition, the orchestra gave a concert before Christmas for the Institute of Logopedics, something which they had never done before. It was one of their most rewarding experiences.

Band members found themselves performing in four concerts and numerous junior high school assemblies throughout the city. The band presented concerts at almost all the junior highs in the city. A one rating was received at the Wichita State Band day. City and state festivals were held in the spring at which soloists and ensembles performed.

The new method of selecting the pep band was from choosing persons from the top 45 band members. A concert band was then formed for those not in the pep band.

To a student, happiness is being a part
 ... getting a class ring ... the last bell
 ... no pop tests ... knowing other students ... getting a yearbook ... passing a final test ...

And most important, graduation.

seniors

final year brings frustration, achievement

Lesley Long and Corky Brown exchange amused glances while listening to senior class president Brad Proesch.

The senior class of 1969 found the final year at West High one of pleasures and frustrations.

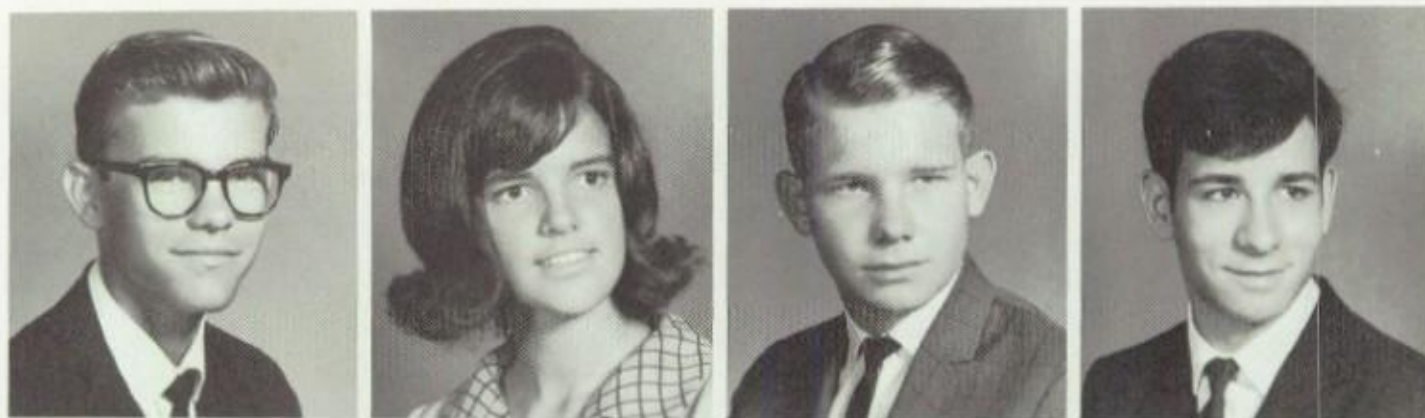

Frustrations differing little from those in previous years were the college tests that took place early on Saturday mornings and the long hours spent studying for up-coming tests. Then there were those small unexpected frustrations that always seemed to happen — a flat tire or a lost paper.

Frustrations seemed small beside the pleasures experienced. The class of '69 won the float contest for the third consecutive year. In addition, West gained the city league title in cross country for the first time in the history of the school. Other firsts were the Pioneer mascot and a senior prom.

Pleasures experienced by every year's seniors included senior pep club mums for football and basketball, the senior assembly, eating at the senior table, parking in the senior row, and finally as the climax of their years in school, graduation.

strong leaders, early planning help class

Mr. Arlen Sanderson gives suggestions on prom plans to Steve Koontz, Laura Miller, and Bob Harvey.

Members of the junior class found their second year at West bringing more exciting activities and responsibilities.

Activities were numerous. Building the junior float required ingenuity and hard work even though the eventual outcome was only third place.

The planning of the Junior-Senior Prom, led by the class officers, was another important activity of which the juniors ably took charge.

Backing projects such as the United Fund Drive was on the list of events. Two hundred-fifty dollars was donated by class members to boost them to win the contest between classes. The money was then contributed to the city-wide collection.

Most important, though, is the receiving of class rings, and next, ring turning, which signifies that — at long last — the goal of being a senior is achieved.

conglomerate of students gains new level

Taking time out to discuss class projects are Tom Ludwig, Twila Griffith, and Sidney Peterson.

Being a sophomore is a unique experience. It is one of trial and error learning, learning how a high school functions and to abide by its rules.

One of the highlights of the sophomore year was their first homecoming. Unveiled was the sophomore float and announcement of the sophomore attendants.

Participation in the United Fund drive helped the sophomores gain recognition.

Talent was displayed at the Junior-Sophomore assembly as they began to make their mark in other areas, too.

Two cheerleaders were elected from the sophomore class and they elected their own officers and representatives.

Decisions and choices were offered to them. They were given a choice of electives, what clubs to join, and whom to vote for in the elections.

Decisions and responsibility are included in the development of maturity and seniority, as many sophomores discovered.

harriers gain first league championship

Season's Record

	No. Teams	Place
West Invitational	9	1
Emporia Invitational	10	1
East Invitational	8	1
North Invitational	10	2
Southeast Invitational	4	1
Heights Invitational	5	1
League Meet	6	1
Regionals	8	4
State	10	2

Steve Johnston, Tom Bradrick, and Frank Hukle meditate before starting the two miles ahead of them.

For the first time in the history of West High School, it boasts the City League Cross Country Champions.

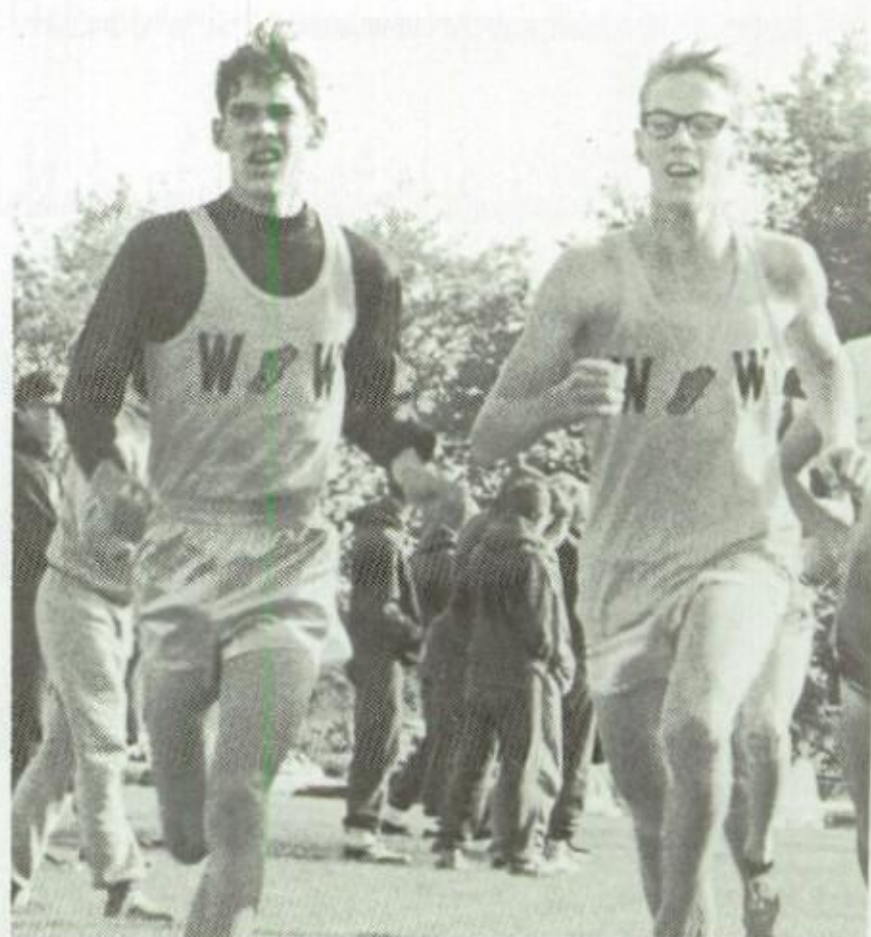

Through hard work and many miles of running, 6,298 miles later, the team emerged as the second best team in the state.

Tom Bradrick and Frank Hukle placed in the top ten in every meet while gathering ninth and tenth individually at state.

Coach Ray Graham introduced a new type of workout to the practice sessions; it was called "timed interval." It brought a new aspect to cross country; rather than total distance, it involved sprints at intervals.

Some members of the squad received local and even national publicity when they took a bicycle trip to Colorado during the summer. They were under the guidance of Coach Graham.

Steve Baker and Frank Hukle match each other stride for stride in the Southeast Invitational.

Front Row: J. Whitesides, J. Converse, T. Jessup, T. Bradrick, R. Landers, J. Rush, M. Smith, D. Towns. Second Row: J. Cleverly, C. Kissling, T. Short, C. Sharon, B. Alexander,

C. Fulgam, B. Coleman, S. Johnston, R. Palmer. Back Row: G. Nickle, M. Hull, R. Klingman, B. Bitler, A. Nibert, M. Berger, S. Baker, R. Galloway, F. Hukle, Coach Ray Graham

Bob Galloway shows signs of one definite thing — fatigue.

Seeing Steve Baker pass opponents was a common sight for spectators.

Front Row: K. Roberts, G. Calvert, P. O'Neill, J. Morell, B. Hansen, R. Yates, G. Hanni, K. Doll. Second Row: M. Dodds, C. Brown, S. Putman, N. Hook, P. Tovey, J. McIntosh, J. Vrana, K. ## comeback team ranks first in city again

Another City League championship, another high-ranked state football team — it's old stuff again as the Pioneers gained their fourth league title in the last five years.

Over all, the Pioneers led the City League in total offense, were second in total defense, and placed twelve on the League All-Star Team. Kenny Bennett was the most valuable player in the league, leading in rushing, total offense, and most points scored during the season.

But the credit really goes to the front line. Led by seniors Kim Roberts, Steve Putman, Joe Morell, Gary Hanni, Jerry McIntosh, and Pat O'Neill, many first downs were gained.

The B-team had a perfect record of 7-0. The defense was the key to the B-team success as the squad allowed only three touchdowns through the entire season. The sophomore team had a 6-1 record, losing only to North, and, consequently, tying North for the City League Sophomore championship.

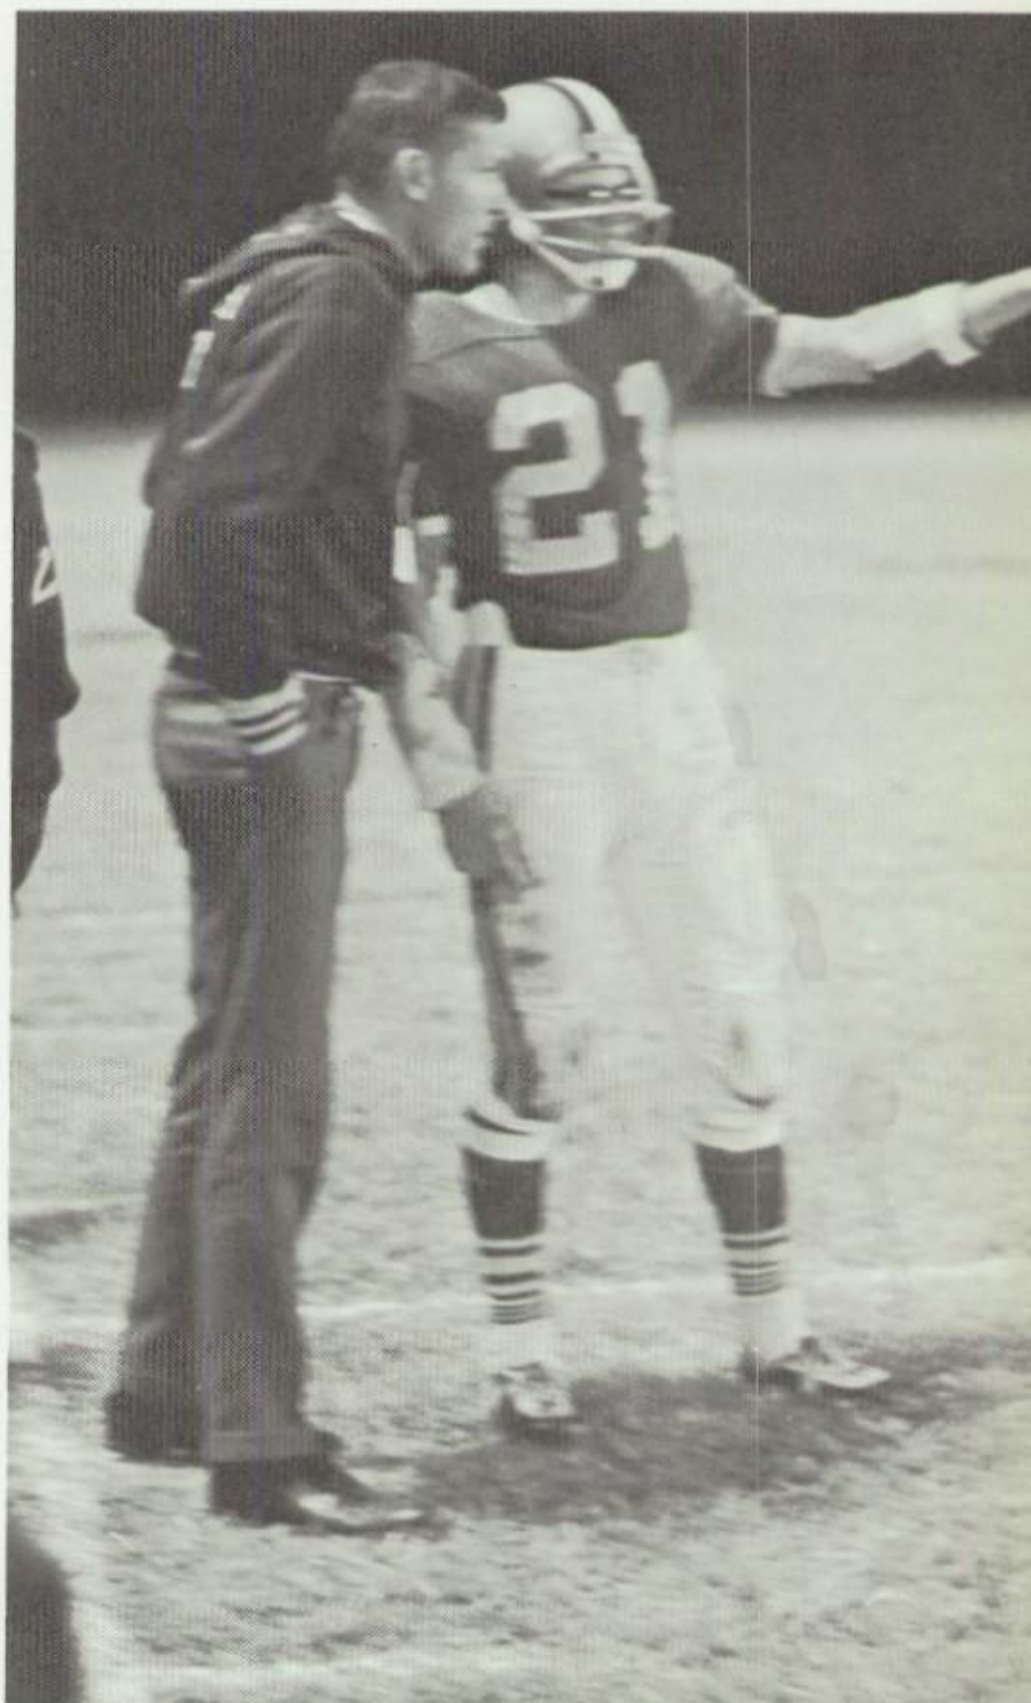

Senior Gary Hanni gets a well-deserved rest after a tough three quarters.

Tom Fredrickson and Joe Morell move with the snap of the ball, this time against Kapaun.

Season's Record
West		Opponent
6	Ark City	6
19	Heights	0
26	Southeast	20
13	North	0
57	East	13
34	South	6
32	Kapaun	6
33	Carroll	0

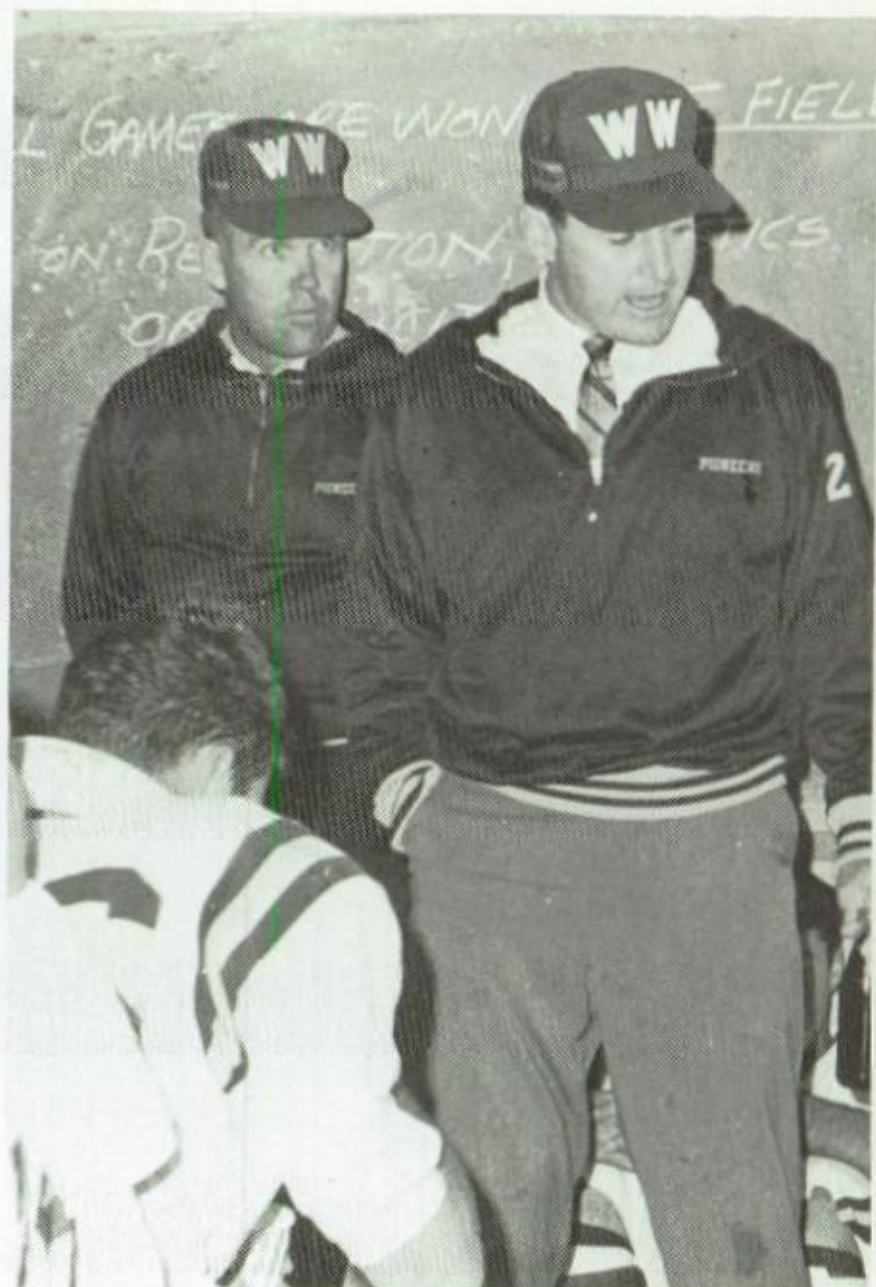

Coach Harold Brandenburg and Phil Helvie discuss strategy for an up-coming play.

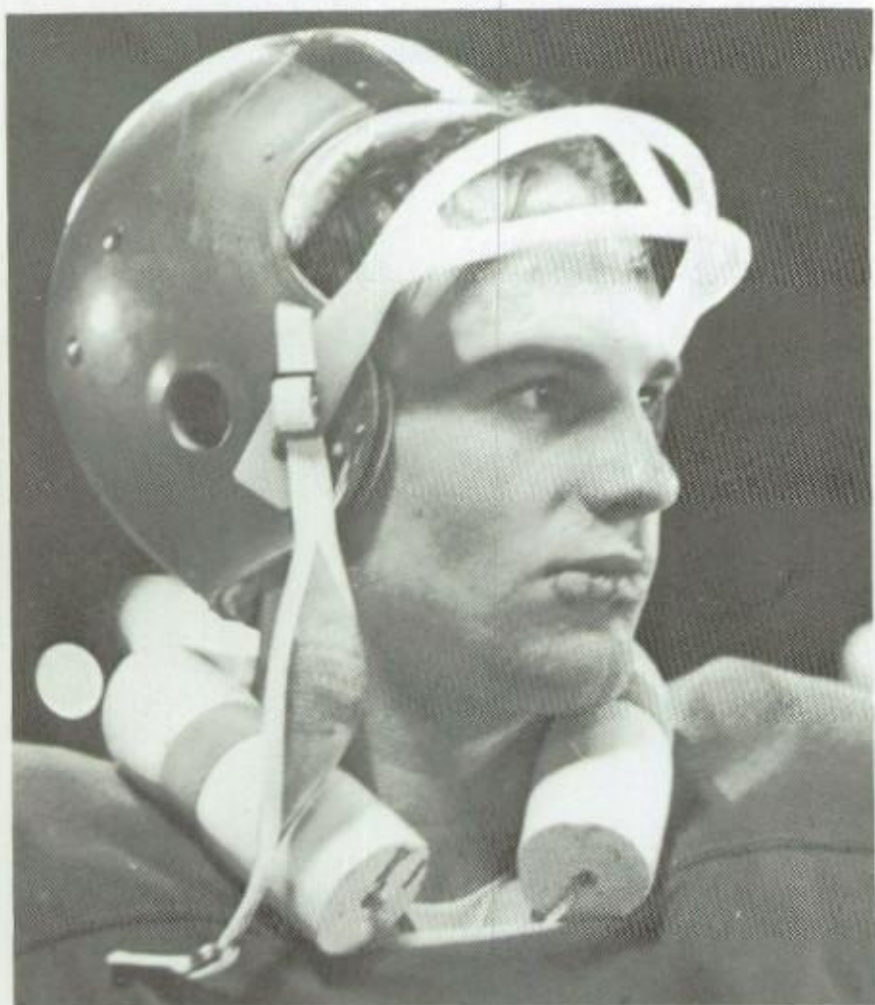

The place-kicking combination of juniors Steve Dillard and Bob Harvey begins to click near the middle of the season.

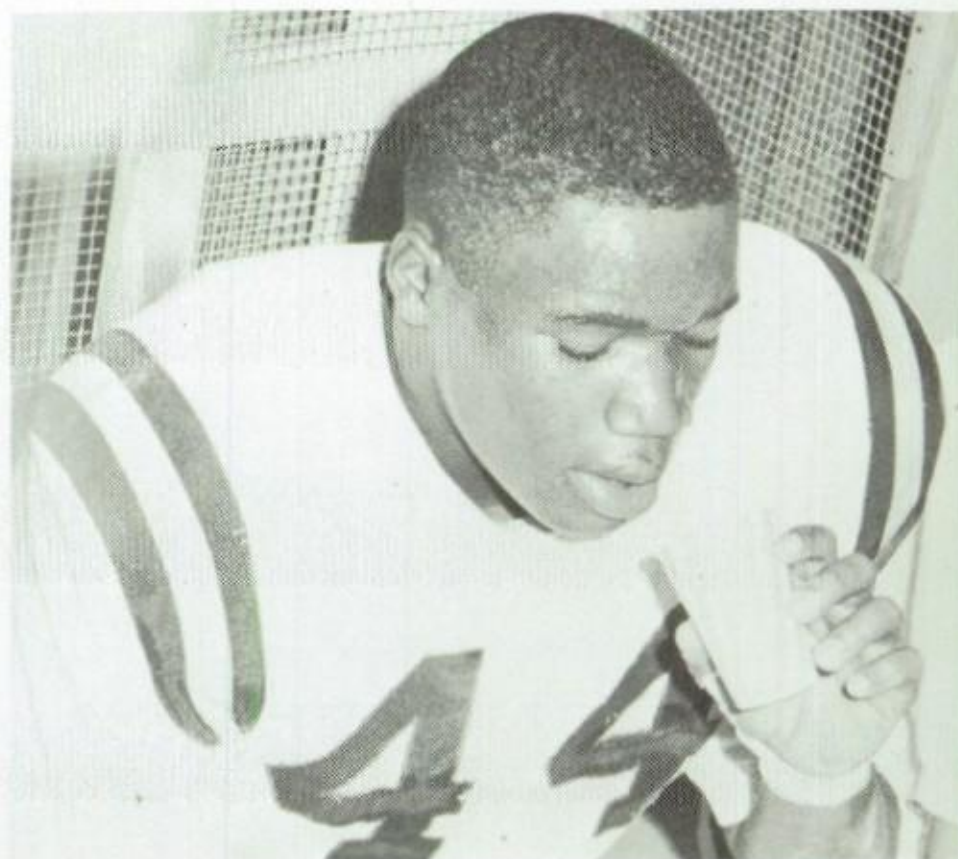

Half-time talks by coaches Kenneth Diskin and George Taylor find squad members listening with more than a little apprehension.

Jerry McIntosh shows weekly marks of what the battlefield is really like.

A cool drink refreshes Sinclair Royal at half-time.

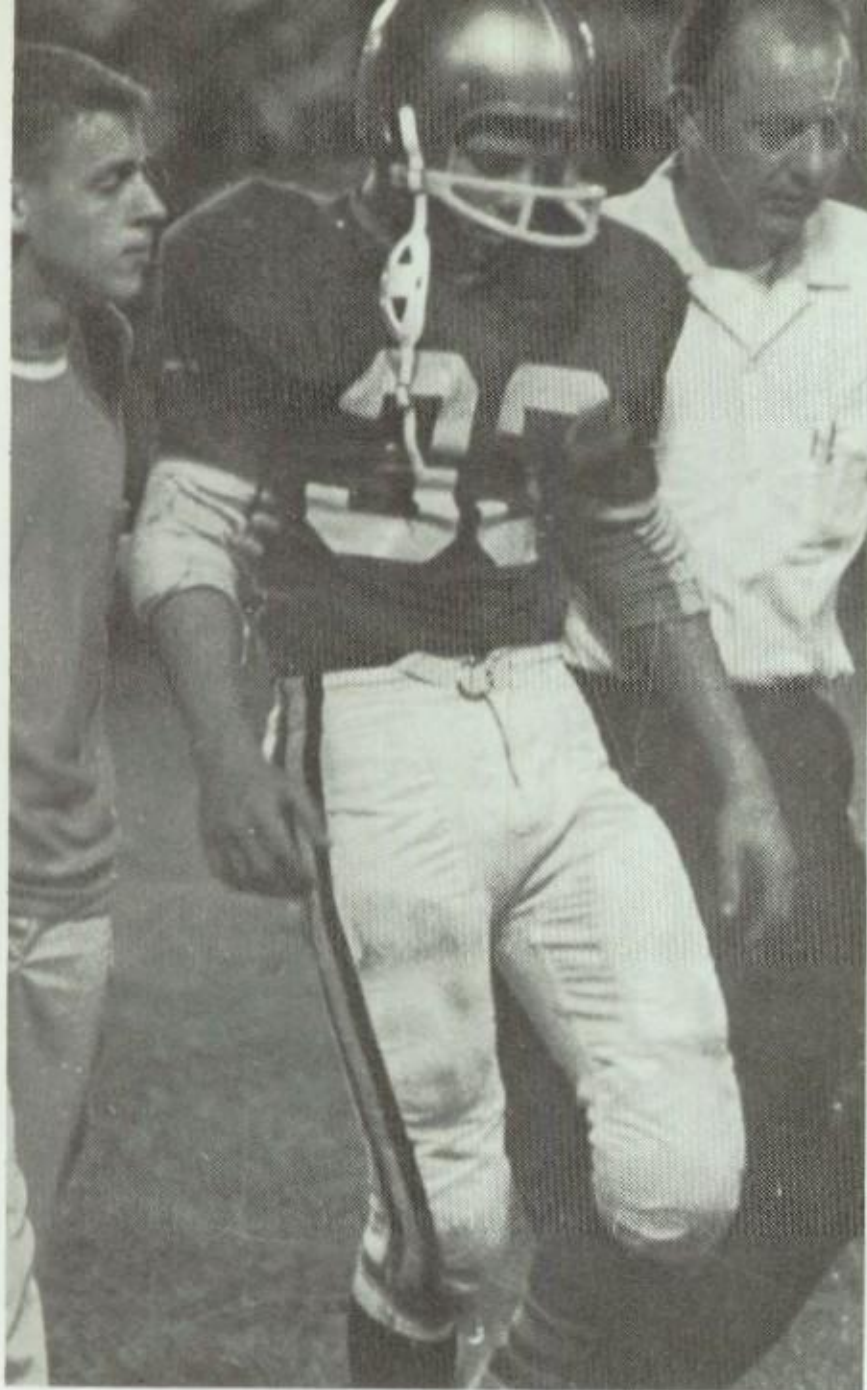

East Ace Terrill Florence finds out exactly how hard Cal Williams tackles.

Cold and mud are hazards to be faced, but Roger Queen plays without noticeable impairment.

Mike Adam uses his blazing speed to make another substantial gain.

Dr. Zane Boyd and Mark Dodds, Manager, help Tom Fornshell as he limps off the field.

Quarterback Kenny Bennett watches apprehensively from the sideline.

Pre-game warm-ups help to take off some of the tension of the up-coming game.

Action is fast and furious against Carroll, as well as against all other opponents.

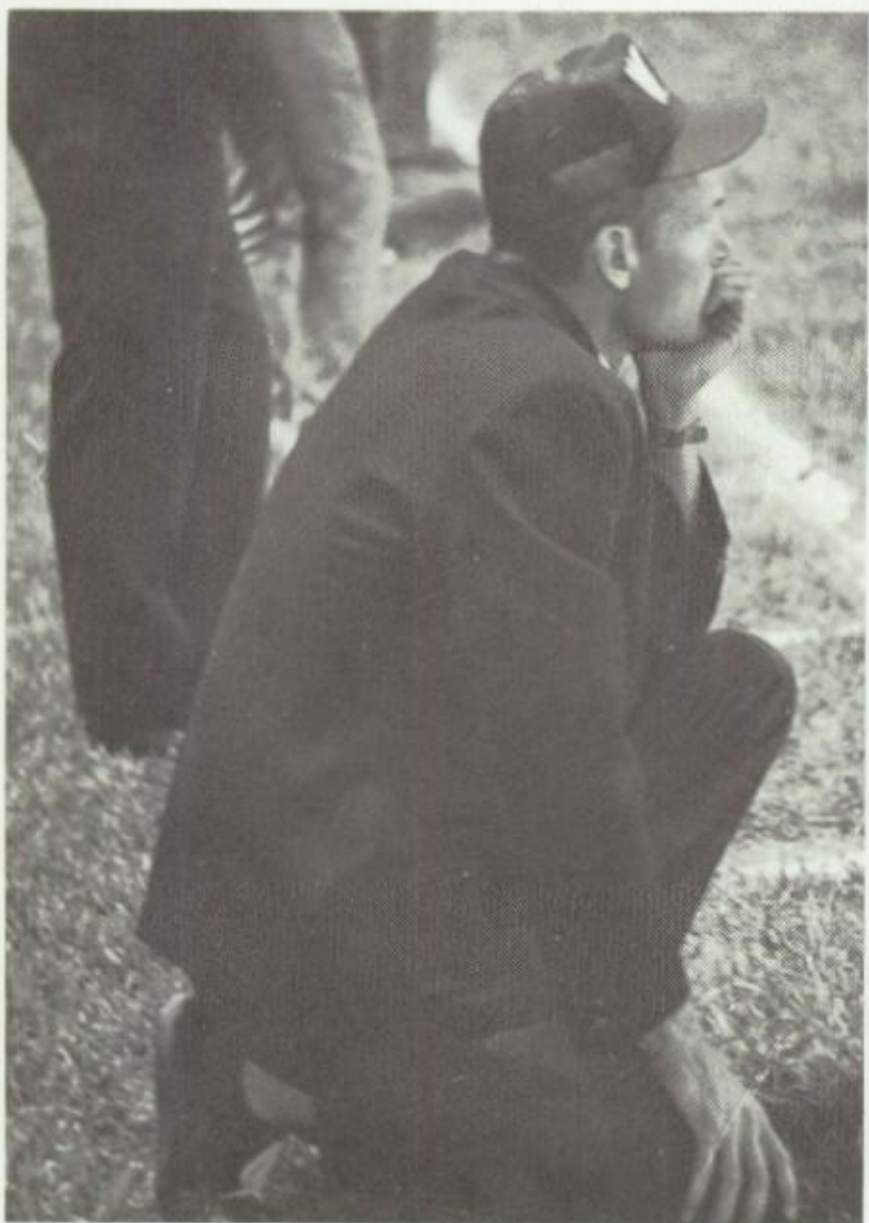

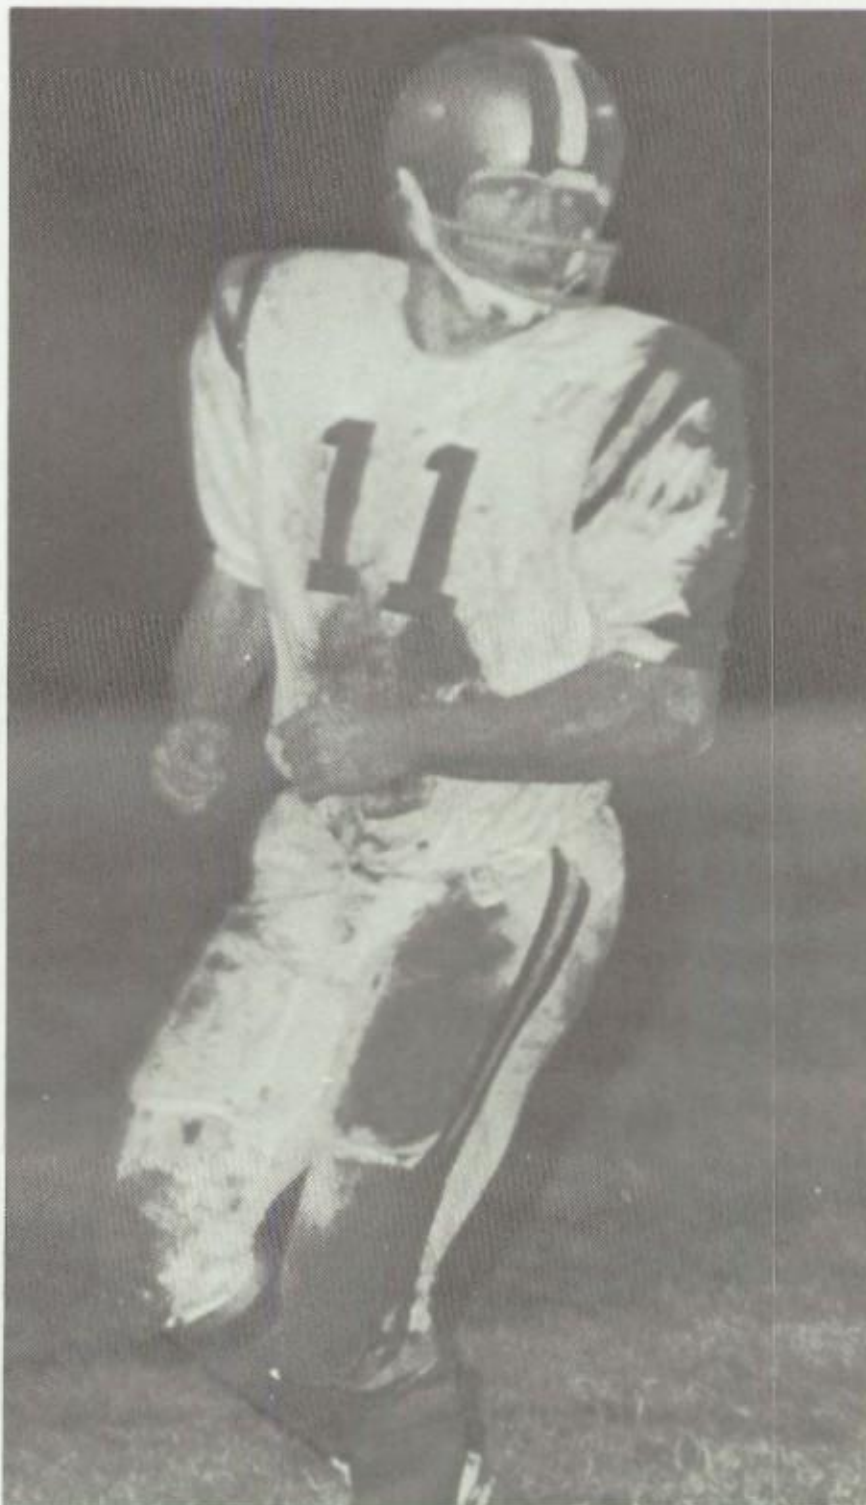

David Butler makes another key first down against North.

Coach Harold Brandenburg closely follows every play, constantly devising new patterns and signals as the game progresses.

A swollen lip was a prized token of combat for Tom Fredrickson.

Kenny Bennett always follows the play; this time it's a hand-off.

Junior Bill White nears the completion of his routine on the rings with a forward dismount.

gymnastics

inexperience, depth prove decisive factors

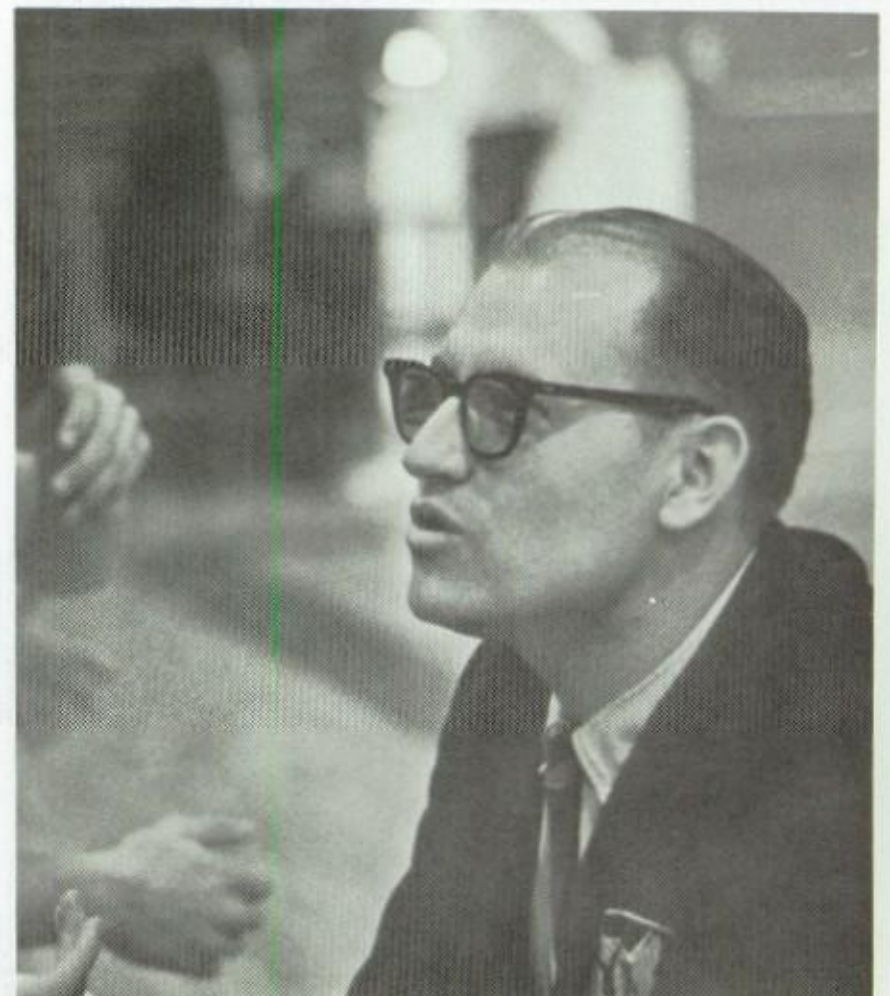

While both shallow in depth and having little experience, the gymnastics team ended its season looking forward to the next campaign.

Led by senior Larry Rose and junior Vince Serrioz, the team accomplished many of the goals set forth by Coach Julian McEwen.

In actual competition, the team placed fifth at the East Invitational and sixth at the Medicine Lodge Invitational. The best performances came during triangular and quadrangular meets. The Pioneers gained a second at both the North four-team and at the Heights triangular.

In regional and state competition senior Larry Rose placed in tumbling for twelfth place.

An inspirational talk from Coach McEwen means a lot before an upcoming event.

Season's Record
West	East	Opponent
60	East Invitational	81
5th	North, Southeast
2nd	South	117
82	Heights, Winfield
2nd	Medicine Lodge
6th	Invitational
71	Southeast	88
71	North	37
5th	West Invitational
6th	Regional
13th	State

Gymnastic Team Standing: Steve Finley, Craig Davis, Glen Nickel, Rudy Puga, Larry Rose, John Angle, Bob Galloway, Mr. Julian McEwen; coach. Seated: Bruce Gorrell, Bill White, Vincent Serrioz.

A fine tumbling routine won Larry Rose many top honors, this time at Southeast.

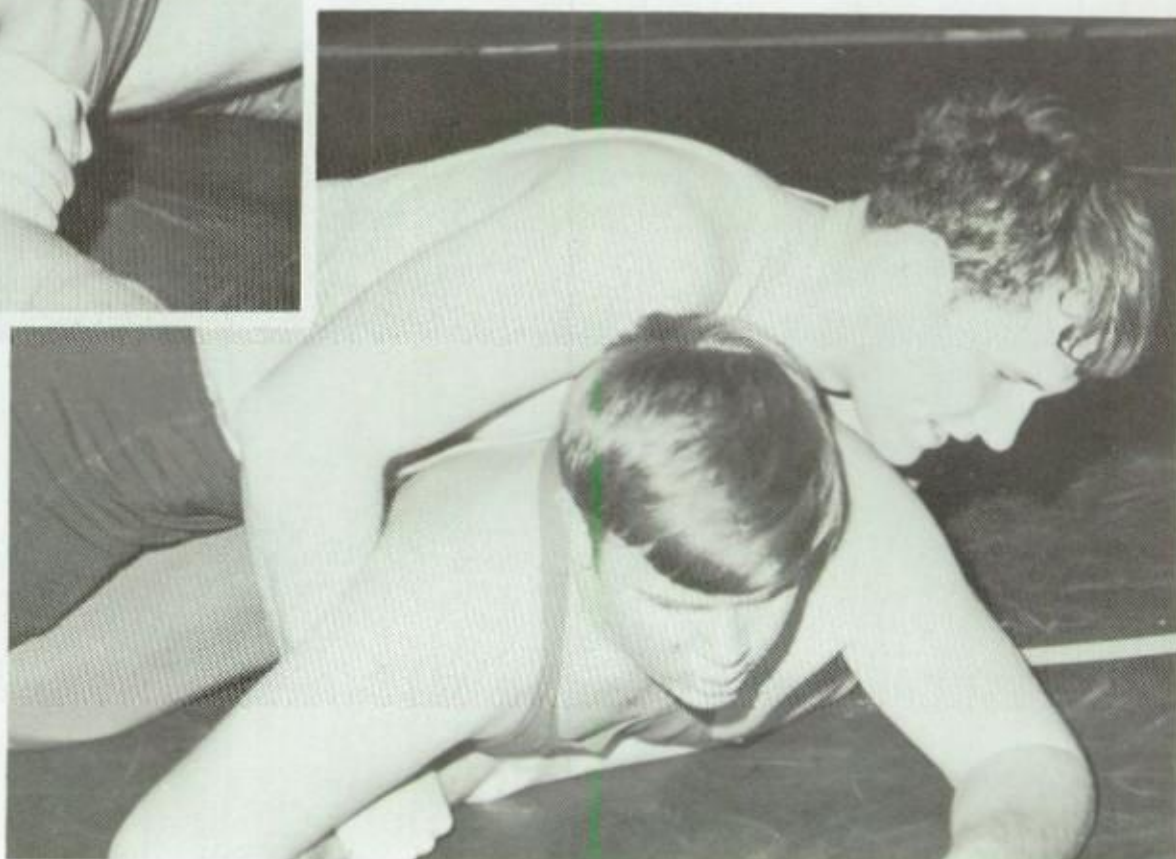

Sophomore Bruce Gorrell gets good spring off the spring-board during a long horse competition.

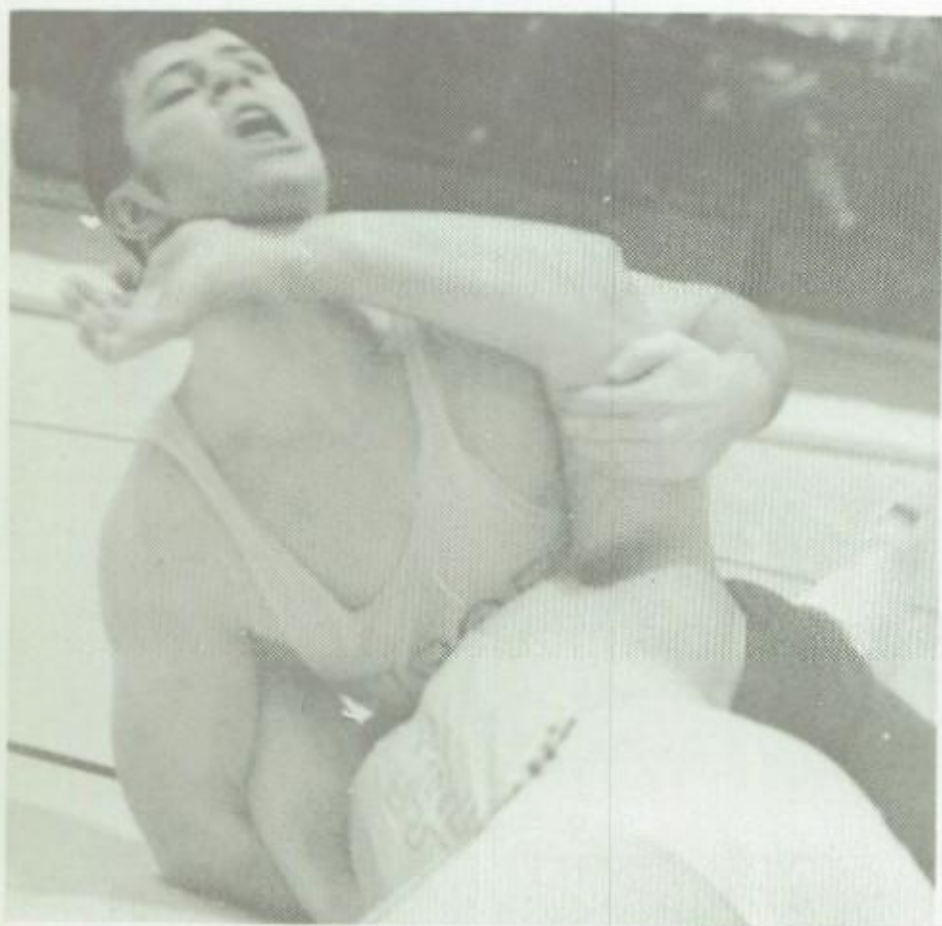

Rex Gragg applies a pinning combination on an opponent from South.

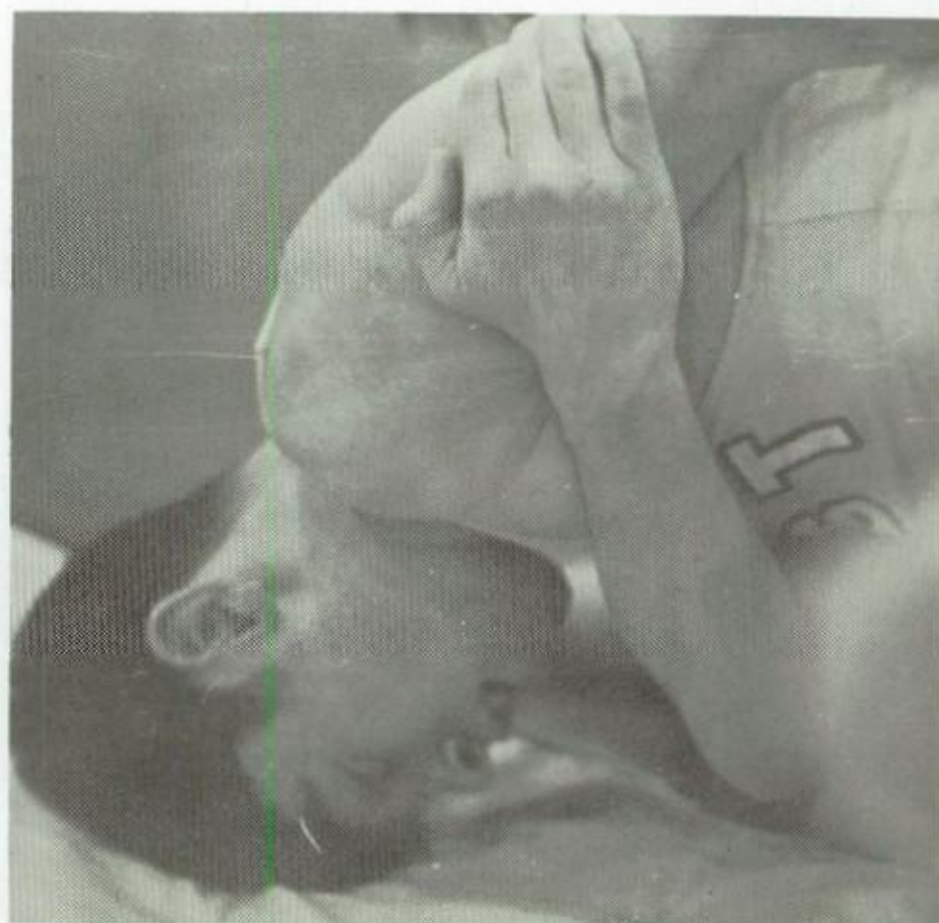

Bob Larson gains valuable riding time during the Kapaun dual.

Joe Morell finally gains control over a 180-pounder from Southeast, but he finds a fist prying at his jaw.

Wrestling Front Row: C. Chandler, M. Dopps, D. Little, N. Yates, M. Pierce, K. Wright, K. Hulse, J. Selby, R. Gragg, M. Abel, J. Morell, B. Larson, R. Burton. Back Row: J. Bell, R. Queen, A. Young, R. Roberts, E. McClenahan, L. Trifonoff,

two seniors gain high regional, state berths

The Wrestling team, led by seniors Joe Morell and John Selby, finished the season with an overall 3-6-1 record, but this is no real indication of how well the team performed as a whole.

With Morell and Selby going undefeated throughout the regular season, they advanced to the state meet where Morell became state champion.

Other members of the team placing in the Wichita Invitational were David Little, 112 pounds, and Rex Gragg, 154 pounds.

The B-team finished its season with a second-place finish at the 'B' team Invitational held at Carroll.

Coach Charles Alderson's wrestlers finished the season with a fifth place finish in league competition and fourth in the Wichita Invitational.

After being taken down by an opponent from North, Ken Hulse tries in vain to get a reversal.

Greg Bogue anticipates his turn during a timed interval workout.

Hidden by a spray of water, Steve Ballard finishes his event — butterfly.

Bruce Alexander gasps for a breath of air during the breaststroke event.

During practice, Carl Dace gains a quick start which will eventually help at a meet.

finmen lose experience, make new start

The 1968-69 swim team under the direction of new head coach Don Gempler underwent a season of rebuilding.

With only one returning letterman and five other members from last year's team, the finmen lacked experience.

There were, consequently, few individual performances that gained berths at the state meet.

Senior captain Carl Dace, swimming both the 200- and 400-yard freestyles, led the team throughout the season with more than ten first places. Junior Steve Koontz swam the 100-yard freestyle for high finishes. Sophomore Bruce Unruh, swimming the individual medley and butterfly, gained valuable experience for the state meet. One strong point about the team was the freestyle relay where senior Carl Dace, juniors Steve Koontz and Paul Henrion, and sophomore Greg Bogue qualified for the state meet.

The team as a whole finished the season with a 3-6 win-loss record and finished sixth at the Wichita Invitational and twelfth at the state meet.

Action isn't always just on the court; all eyes follow the play in both the crowd and on the players' bench.

The basketball squad saw moments of thrill and they tasted of defeat with one of the smallest, physically, teams; the Pioneers were overwhelmed by the size and speed of the other league foes.

Probably the biggest upset of the year occurred early in the season when the team defeated number-two ranked Southeast. After a one-point victory over East, the Pioneers lost five games in a row before going into the North Invitational. At North the team lost the first game to number-one ranked Wyandotte, then turned around to beat a big team from Shawnee Mission North, 36-35.

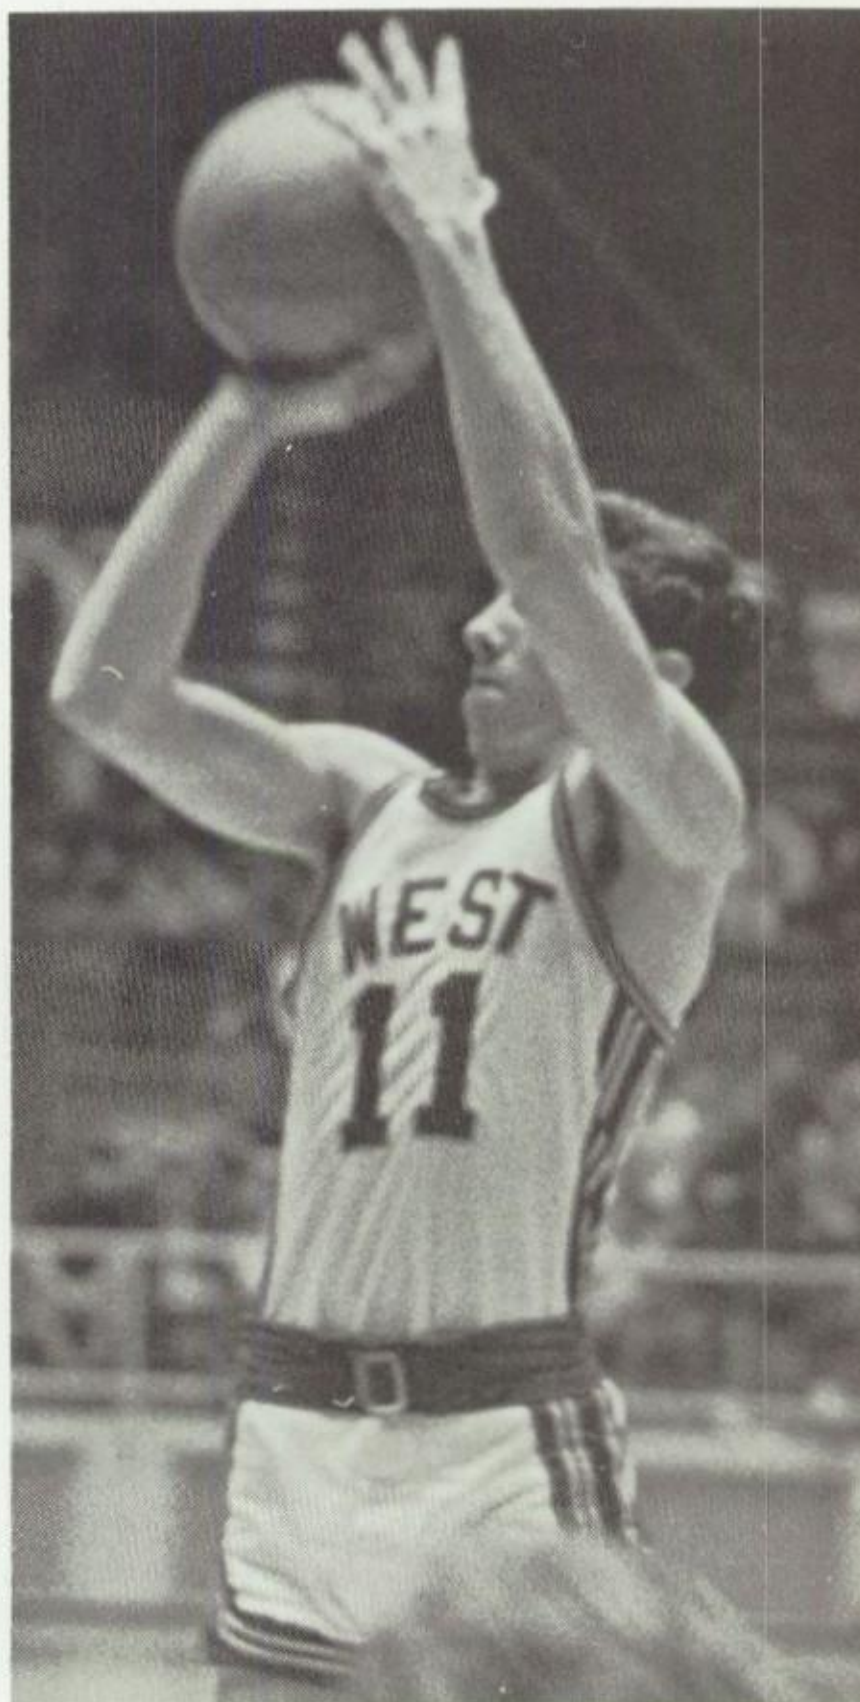

During the second half of the season two members of the team were injured and sidelined for the Invitational and the following game. With the return of these two starters, the team picked up and finished out the year with a 7-12 overall record. The regionals saw West gain a fourth-place berth to finish a season scarred with injuries and bad luck.

The B-team ended its season on a successful note with one objective in mind — improvement. Coach Kenneth Diskin's team finished the season with a 9-7 record to gain a finish in league competition. The sophomore team, though inexperienced, finished the season with a 8-6 overall record.

Junior Mike Adam shows the extra effort needed for a good performance.

Many times things don't happen exactly the way Coach Charles Sanger intends.

Senior Gary Calvert strains to gain the tip against Walter Williams of Wyandotte.

After a hard performance, Coach Charles Sanger assures Kim Roberts with a pat on the back.

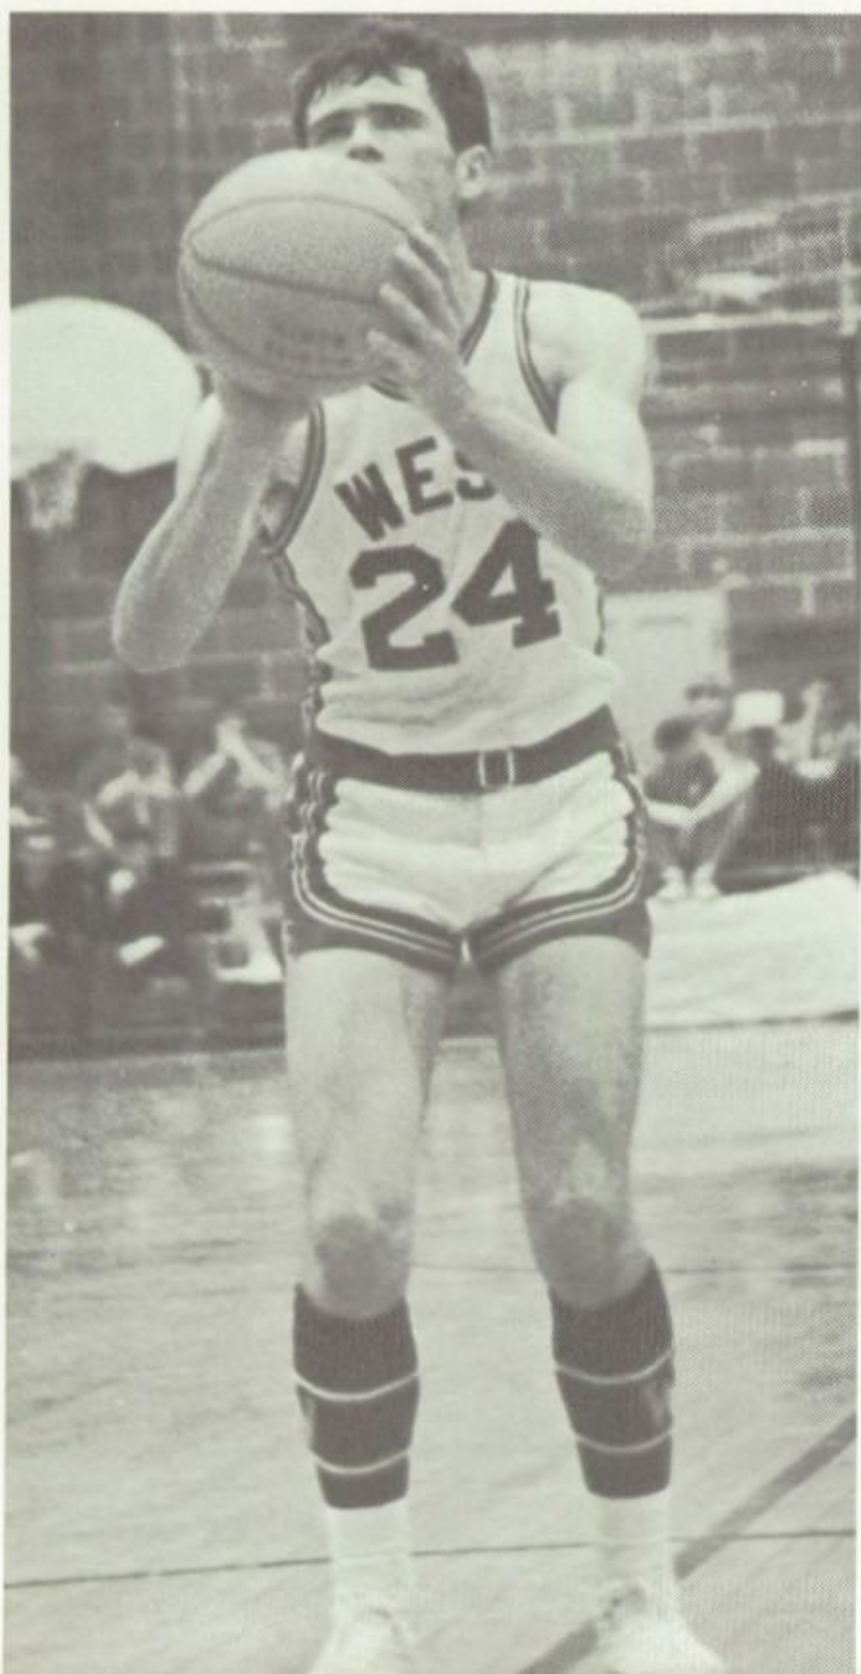

Defending Southeast's Randy Canfield is a big chore; this time Gary Hanni is over-powered by the 6'11" giant.

The faces and expressions of players and coaches show the different moods of play.

Concentration is an important part of the game; Phil Helvie shoots here from the charity stripe.

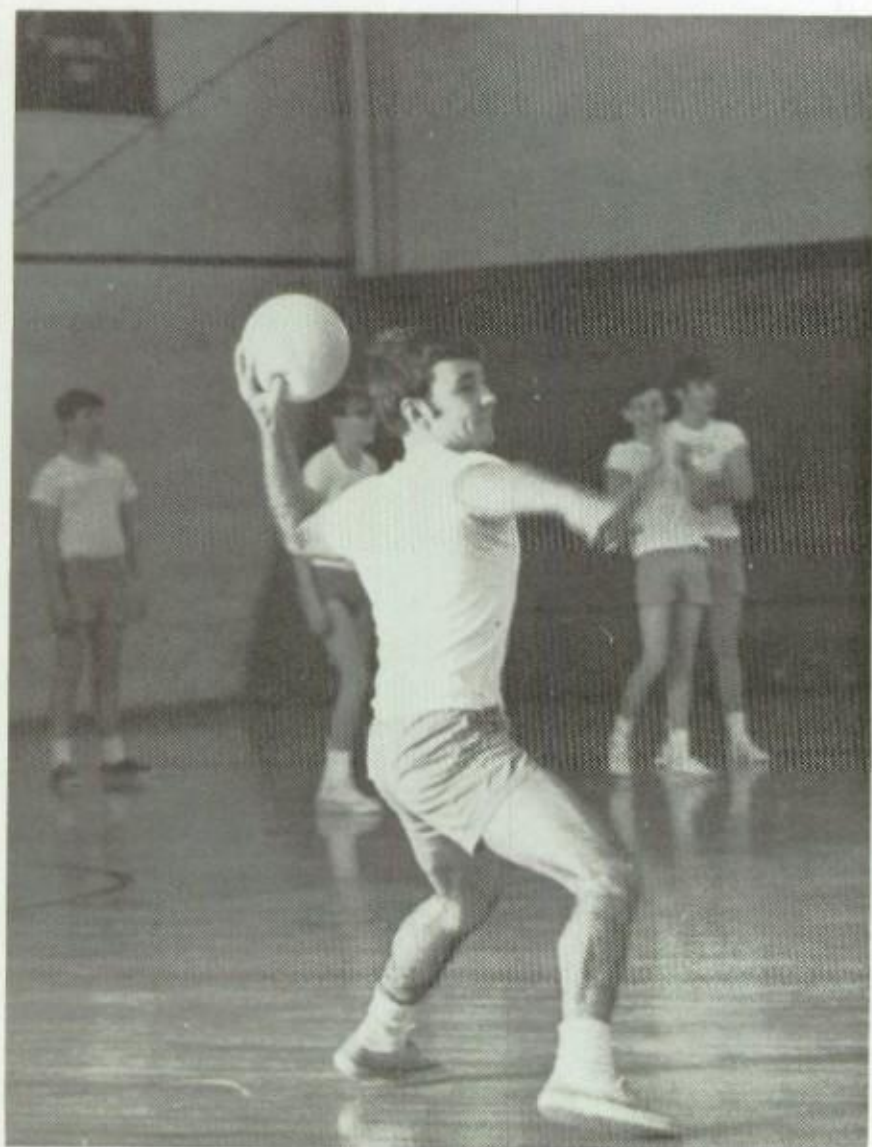

Underclassmen shared the work load as seen here by Robert Kidd and Bill Wright.

something for everyone aim of offerings

Bombardment is one of the best liked and most enjoyable activities in the boys' physical education classes.

A weight-training or circuit-training course is offered to develop muscles for the upcoming spring sports season.

Every day before roll call, the whole class plays a game resembling basketball, but which usually emphasizes added contact and pushing.

Above: Perfection of routines and constant practice helped the girls' gymnastics team place high in competition.

Left: Practice in bowling and the necessary waiting for a turn are integral parts of the girls' physical education program.

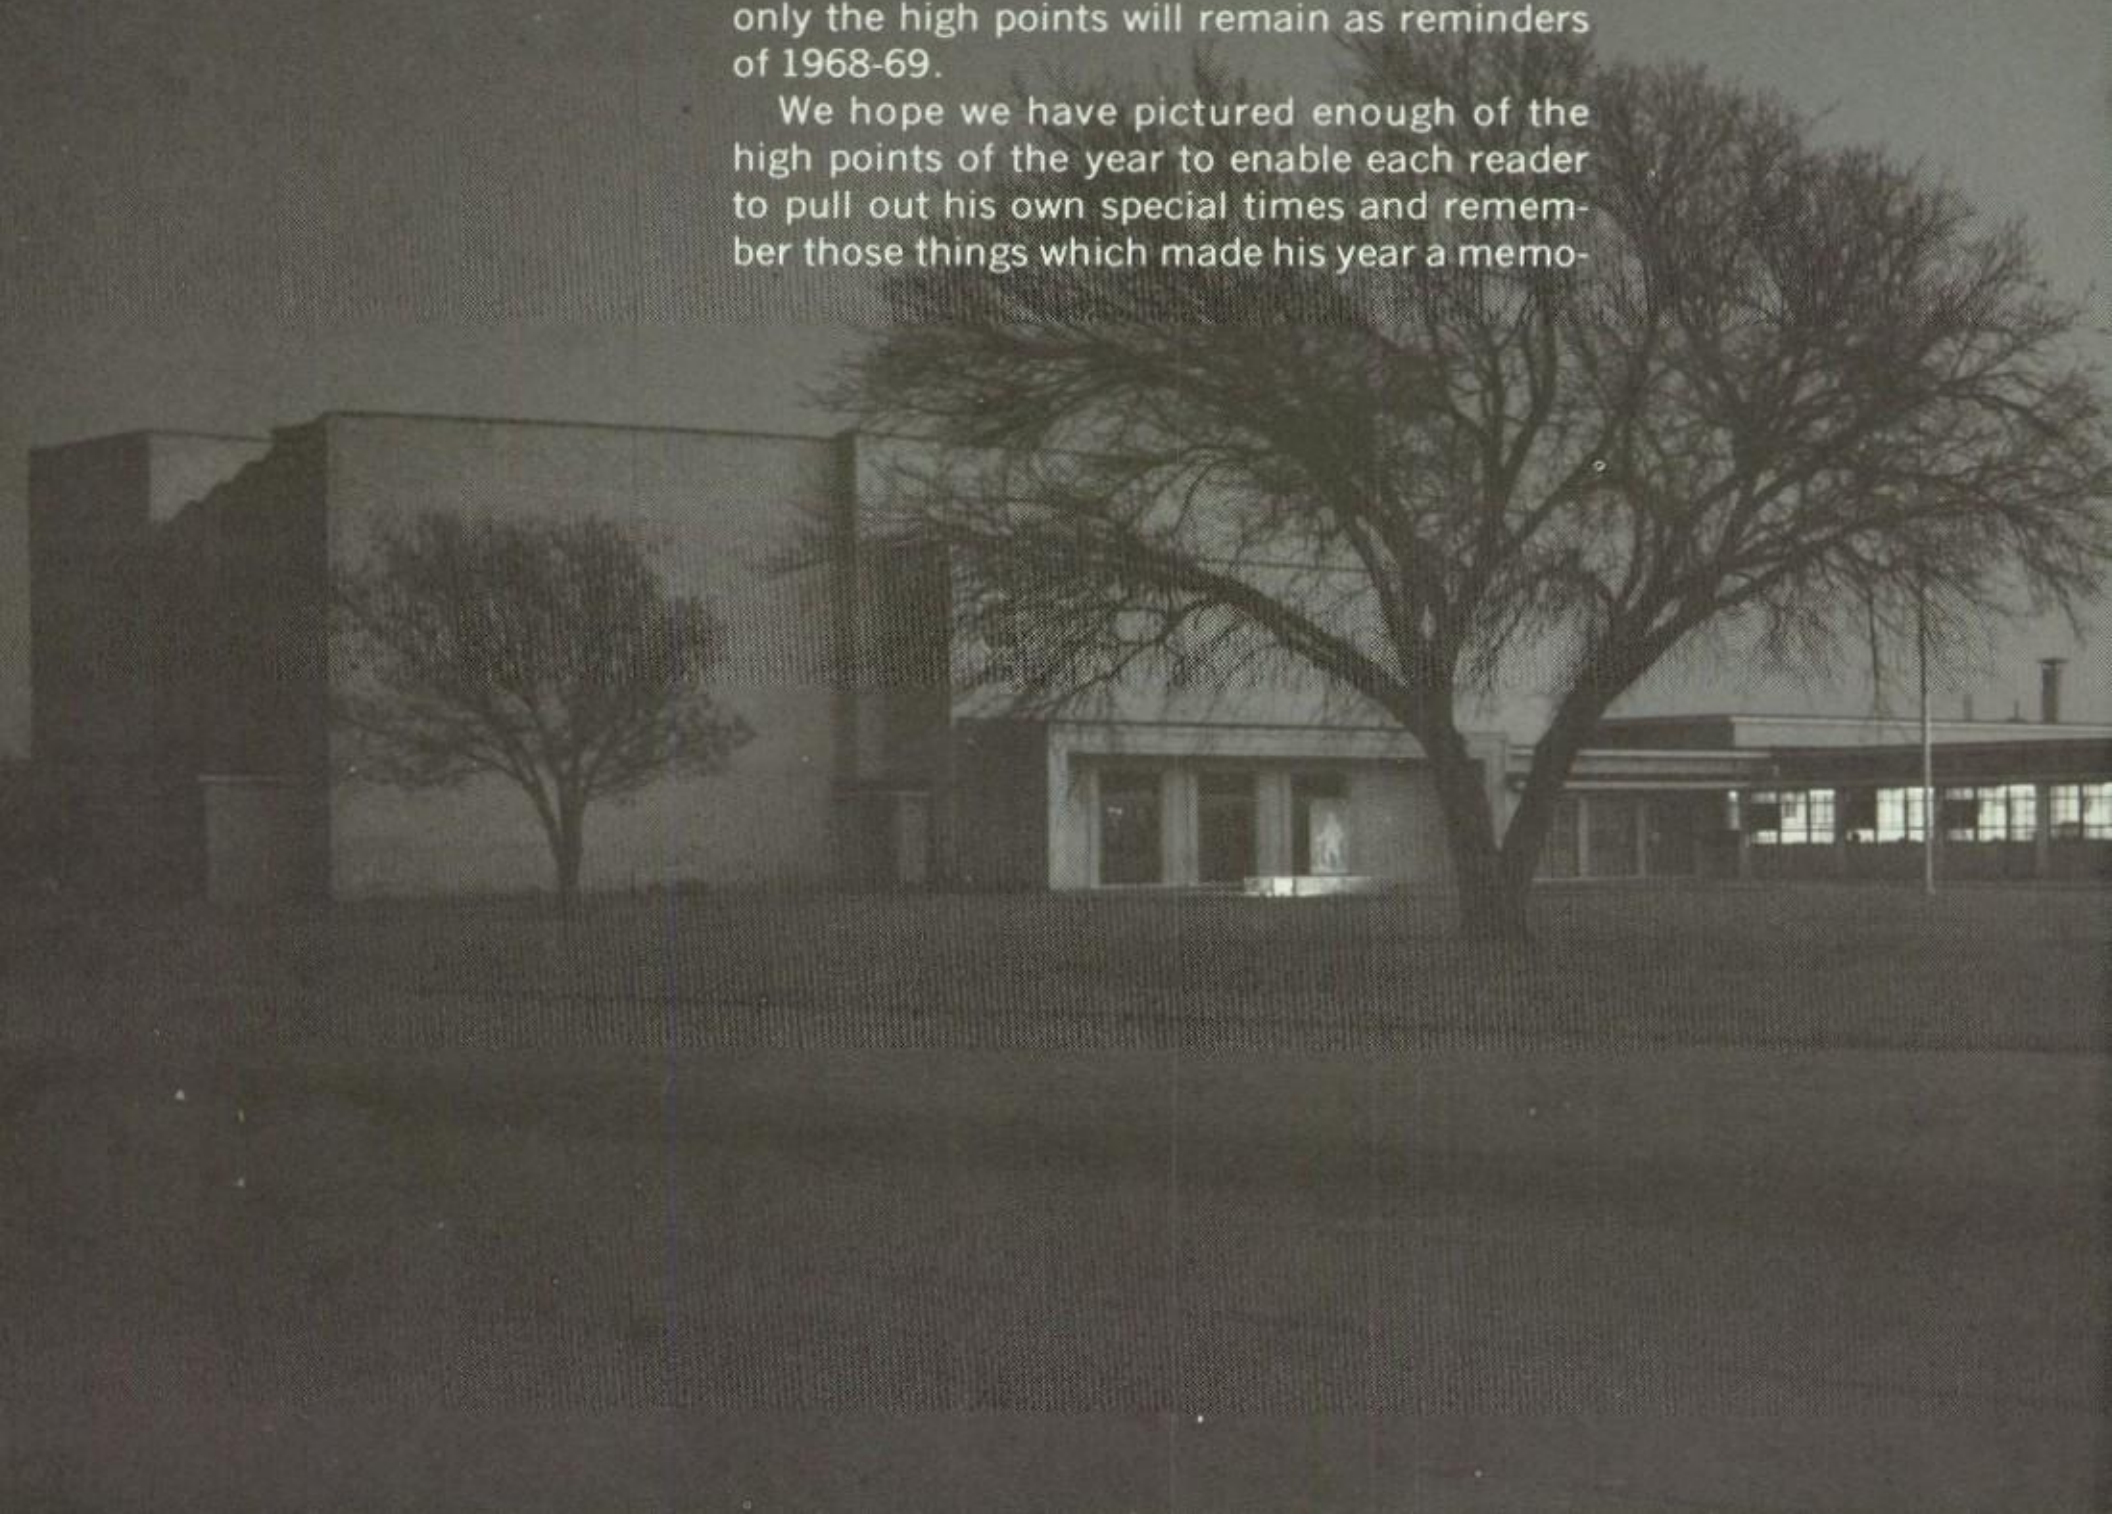

another day, another year . . .

an end, but

It is both with nostalgia and relief that we see the end of this book and the end of another school year. Like all years, it was filled with its frustrations and its rewards. Somehow the frustrations will slip from our memories and only the high points will remain as reminders of 1968-69.

We hope we have pictured enough of the high points of the year to enable each reader to pull out his own special times and remember those things which made his year a memo-

also a beginning

able one.

Special recognition should be given to Mr. Frank Wright, American Yearbook Company; Mr. Merle Jones and Mr. Les Orr, Student Photo; the Wichita Eagle and Beacon, photography division; and, most of all, the students, faculty, and staff of Wichita High School West, without whose activities and participation this yearbook — or any yearbook — would lose all meaning.

Brian,
This year has sure
been fun with you in gym. Hope to see you next year in my classes next year.
Luck this year.

assemblies

talents produce exceptional entertainment

With spring came several assemblies which occur traditionally each year. Among these were the Sophomore-Junior Talent Assembly, the Messiah, the Modern Dance Show and the Senior Assembly.

On April 3, West High's music department presented Handel's Messiah in a school assembly, following an evening performance for the public on April 1. In February the Sophomore-Junior Talent Assembly entertained the student body with a variety of musical presentations and skits. The Modern Dance Show was previewed in an assembly on April 10.

This year's Senior Assembly followed the line of televisions' Laugh-In. Besides the Party and several sketches from Laugh-In, an abundance of talent was presented in one of the Seniors' last cooperative efforts for the student body.

The choir applauds Mr. J. Ellis Jackson as he completes his final "Messiah" presentation for West High. Mr. Jackson retired from teaching at the end of the year.

you can't take it with you

comedy shows life's conflicts, solutions

As the J-men raid Mrs. Vanderhof's house, ordering everyone into the living room, Donald carries in the drunken actress, Gay.

Above: Mr. Henderson explains to Grandpa that he simply must pay back income tax.

Below: Alice and Tony discuss marriage in one of the more tender scenes of the play.

A lively comedy was selected for the last all-school play of the year. "You Can't Take It With You" was presented in the West High auditorium on March 21 and 22.

The setting was the home of Martin Vanderhof in New York City. The action took place around 1930.

Two families, the Kirbys and the Sycamores, ran into trouble when their philosophies of life conflicted. The Sycamores were individualists who believed that it was all right to do anything at home. The Kirbys were conservatives who led a Wall Street life.

Alice Sycamore and Tony Kirby wanted to get married, but because of the family situation, they were unable to do so. Thanks to Grandpa, the problem was solved, and the two were married.

thespian plays

small casts mark 'round' presentations

Theatre in the round was the planned setting for the final plays of the year presented on May 9. Thespians, Pioneer Players, and drama students combined their talents for the annual Thespian presentation.

Instead of the traditional single play, three one-act plays were chosen; each was directed by a student.

"Impromptu," directed by Ed LeRoy; "The Sandbox," directed by Kenny Arnold; and "The New Rasputin," directed by Karen Ross, were the selected plays.

Impromptu

Earnest .....	David Bonfiglio
Winifred .....	Vicki Wilson
Tony .....	Tom Ludwig
Laura .....	Molly McGuire

The Sandbox

Monny .....	Jill Reyes
Daddy .....	Brian Martin
Grandma .....	Ruby Renz
Angel of Death .....	Danny Zavala
Musician .....	Ted Lane

The New Rasputin

St. Michael .....	Brian Martin
Beelzebub .....	David Scharnhorst
St. Francis .....	Tom Ludwig
Rasputin .....	David Bonfiglio
Princess X .....	Renee Dick
Yusopou .....	John Aley

The cast of "Impromptu" rehearses lines before the final presentation.

Rasputin presents Princess X with a doll in a scene from "The New Rasputin."

In the play "The Sandbox," Grandma is portrayed by Ruby Renz.

tennis

young netters earn second place in city

Looking for things to come summarized the season's outcome for the West tennis team. Led by two seniors and four juniors, the squad gained both confidence and experience.

Finishing in second place in the league, the netters missed position of first by only one set, to city champions Southeast. Junior Scott Wiggins tied for a share of number-one man honors in the league. He and his partner, Bob Wolgamott, were undefeated in city doubles competition.

Post-season play brought back more honors for the team. A third place was attained at Ark City, and a fourth place at the Wichita North invitational tournament.

Happiness is Mr. Dennie Bretz, as he relaxes and anticipates another successful season.

Kneeling: Tom Coury, Terry Yarnell, and Tom Wray. Standing: Mike Witherspoon, Bob Wolgamott, Mr. Dennie Bretz, coach; Greg Lippincott, and Scott Wiggins.

track

distancemen pace thinclads to new marks

Ironically was a term which could have been used to express the results of the 1969 track season.

Finishing out the season was the squad's fifth place finish in the league meet. Because of the low number out for track, the team's main scoring was done by relay teams.

Throughout the season nine new school records were established.

Juniors Tom Bradrick and Frank Hukle each set two separate records.

Junior sprinter Mike Adam relies upon his explosive start in regional competition.

Giving it an all-out effort is anchor man Rex Gragg as he brings in the winning sprint-medley relay.

duffers suffer setback, two-man takes third

Under the direction of new coach Mr. Charles Alderson, the West golf team made the best of a mediocre rebuilding season. Graduation and lack of depth in five of the six starting positions played havoc in the season's competition.

Season's results showed that the four-man team wound up in last place in league action. Experience was utilized by the two-man contingent in the form of senior Byron Dienstbach and sophomore Blake Anderson. The duo compiled a third-place finish in the league, but did not place in the regional contest. Highlighting the season for the two-man squad was a victory over the topseeded Narvarro brothers.

Byron Dienstbach explains some of the finer points to his two-man partner Blake Anderson.

baseball

state, city titles claimed by diamondmen

First-sacker Kenny Bennett anxiously waits for the throw to first for the put-out. Bottom Right: Brad Hansen checks his swing during the North game.

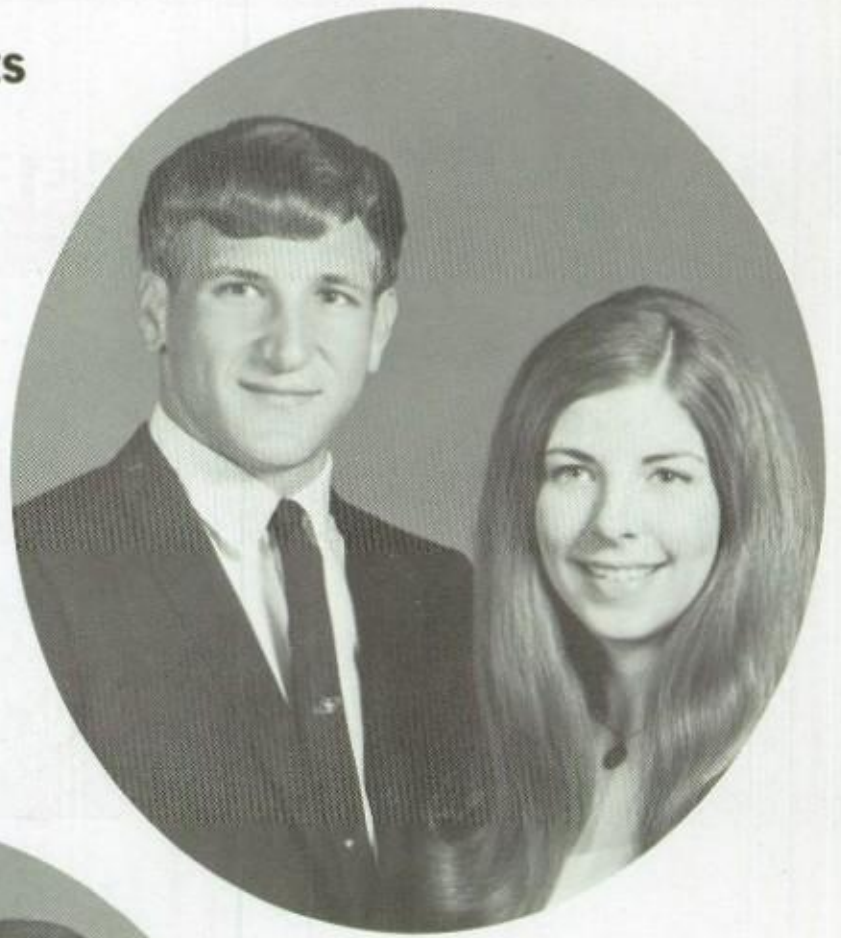

Revenge had a bitter-sweet taste to the members of the West baseball team. Again, for the second time in the past three years, the West team under the direction of coach Bill Sherich, has taken the city league title, and successfully completed the season with a State championship. They lost only two games, one each to Heights and Kapaun enroute to the city crown.

King
Kirk Doll

Royal couples lead those in attendance during the coronation dance.

Standing between the pillars, King Kirk and Queen Susan reign over their royal court.

prom

castles, knights enhance royal atmosphere

Crown bearers and senior attendants look on as King Kirk bestows the royal kiss upon Queen Susan.

"Camelot" was the theme for the 1969 Junior-Senior prom held at the Cotillion Ballroom on April 19 beginning at 8 p.m. Junior class officers Steve Koontz, Bob Harvey, and Laura Miller were responsible for planning and decorating for the event.

Decorations were highlighted by a drawbridge at the entrance. Music was provided by "The Apostles."

Royalty was chosen by students who attended the prom; they cast their votes as they entered the Cotillion. Candidates had been selected in a school-wide election prior to the prom.

Elected were King Kirk Doll and Queen Susan Eubanks. Senior attendants were Tom Fredrikson and Cynthia Halls and Brad Hansen and Lesley Long.

Junior Prince and Princess were Steve Koontz and Becky Parsons. Their attendants were Dan Adams and Paula Andrews and Tom Szambecki and Bobbi Hulbert.

Two weeks before the prom, favors were sold; favors were square-shaped pendants with ruby stones. Pictures were taken of couples during the prom.

Various types of jewelry were given as tokens of the occasion to those chosen as royalty.

Aiding the junior class officers in the planning and decorating for the prom were the junior class sponsors, headed by Mr. Arden Sanderson.

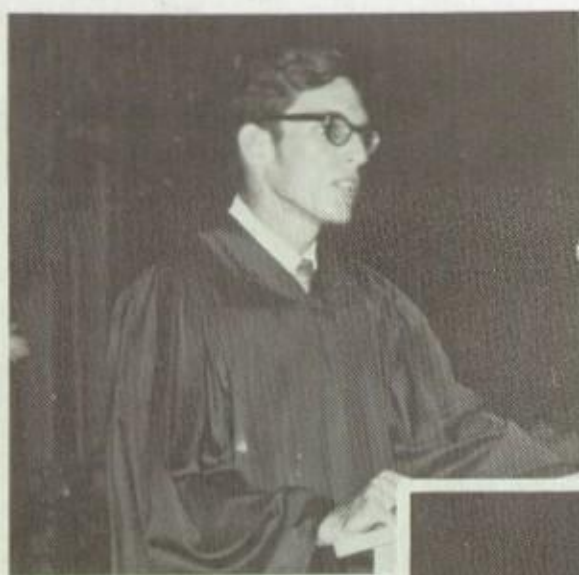

Junior class members Laura Miller and Denise Rees present gifts to King Kirk and Queen Susan.

vespers, commencement

speakers offer advice at last ceremonies

Bruce Bitler (Top) and Ross Hollander (Above) explain to fellow graduates their hopes for the future.

Monday, May 26, West High seniors participated in graduation ceremonies at Henry Levitt Arena on the Wichita State University campus at 8 p.m.

Graduates listened to student speakers Bruce Bitler and Ross Hollander. Bruce chose as his title "The Impossible Dream," and Ross discussed "The Individual and Conformativism." This was the first time in fourteen years that both selected speakers were boys.

Dr. Edwin Friesen presented a few brief remarks before introducing the graduates. Diplomas were conferred by the Board of Education and received by students as they were introduced.

A city-wide vespers service was held on Sunday, May 18, at Henry Levitt Arena. This was an afternoon ceremony beginning at 4 o'clock.

Brian,
Well, neighbor, how are ya?
I haven't had time to come and see your kittens. I will though, don't worry. See more of ya this summer.
Dara Pyke

Brian,

Really, I haven't talked to you until last Sat. (contests)
but you're a complete riot, & lots o' fun to be with. Good Luck in singing & everything you do.
Brain,
your next g

Much love,

Your next guy
with a great personality. ~~Shure~~ hope you go far in your acting. Lots of Luck

Well another saucy
 year with you!!! (Gotta go) Really, you're one of the coolest, nicest guys I've ever met!!! & anyone ever was a blast in 1st year
 this year, it was you! & don't know what we've have happened without you, but it wouldn't have be funny without you Stay sweet!!! (Trif Hard)

Star of the Stage!! real Blast!!
knowing you and
In sorry you are advertising take care when not please take care of Jam!
Don't know it isn't Best of Luck!

Brian
to you really loved
you have you in class things certainly did as a mother of a
the res + of your life
you're a talented see your name we lights some days in miss hard.

Don't you are absolutely the "mystical" Sophomore to come around in years. You've got brains, acting, musical as well as other talents & a great contribution to the world.
Drama was fun with the guys & you added your little touch. You also contributed quite a bit to the of anything you've ever wanted you'll get. if you give your all, (like in French Class!!) Take it easy and just ask Luck always.
You will be friends for ever & ever! Love & miss you
Love,
Lizzy Jaye '90

Brian,
Believe it or not, I had to laugh at some of the stupid things you'd say. It was a lot fun doing "Flight"
and you can't take it with you." Good luck
next year.
Heidi Johnson

(Brian)
Love a next guy!
Help to see ya next year!
Good Luck!
Help to see ya next year!

How's the vibran... coming? Pretty good huh? Good. Excellent.
 Keep up the good drama work
 too. See ya next year.

Brian,
 You've got a lot of talent
 and you're still not conceited.
 Stay that way.
 Davey Schornhout

Brian, have you really have been a lot of fun
 in 1st hour of this year. You really know how to perk
 up a classroom. (hope)
 I have you in more
 of my classes next year.
 Lots of Luck Always,
 "11"

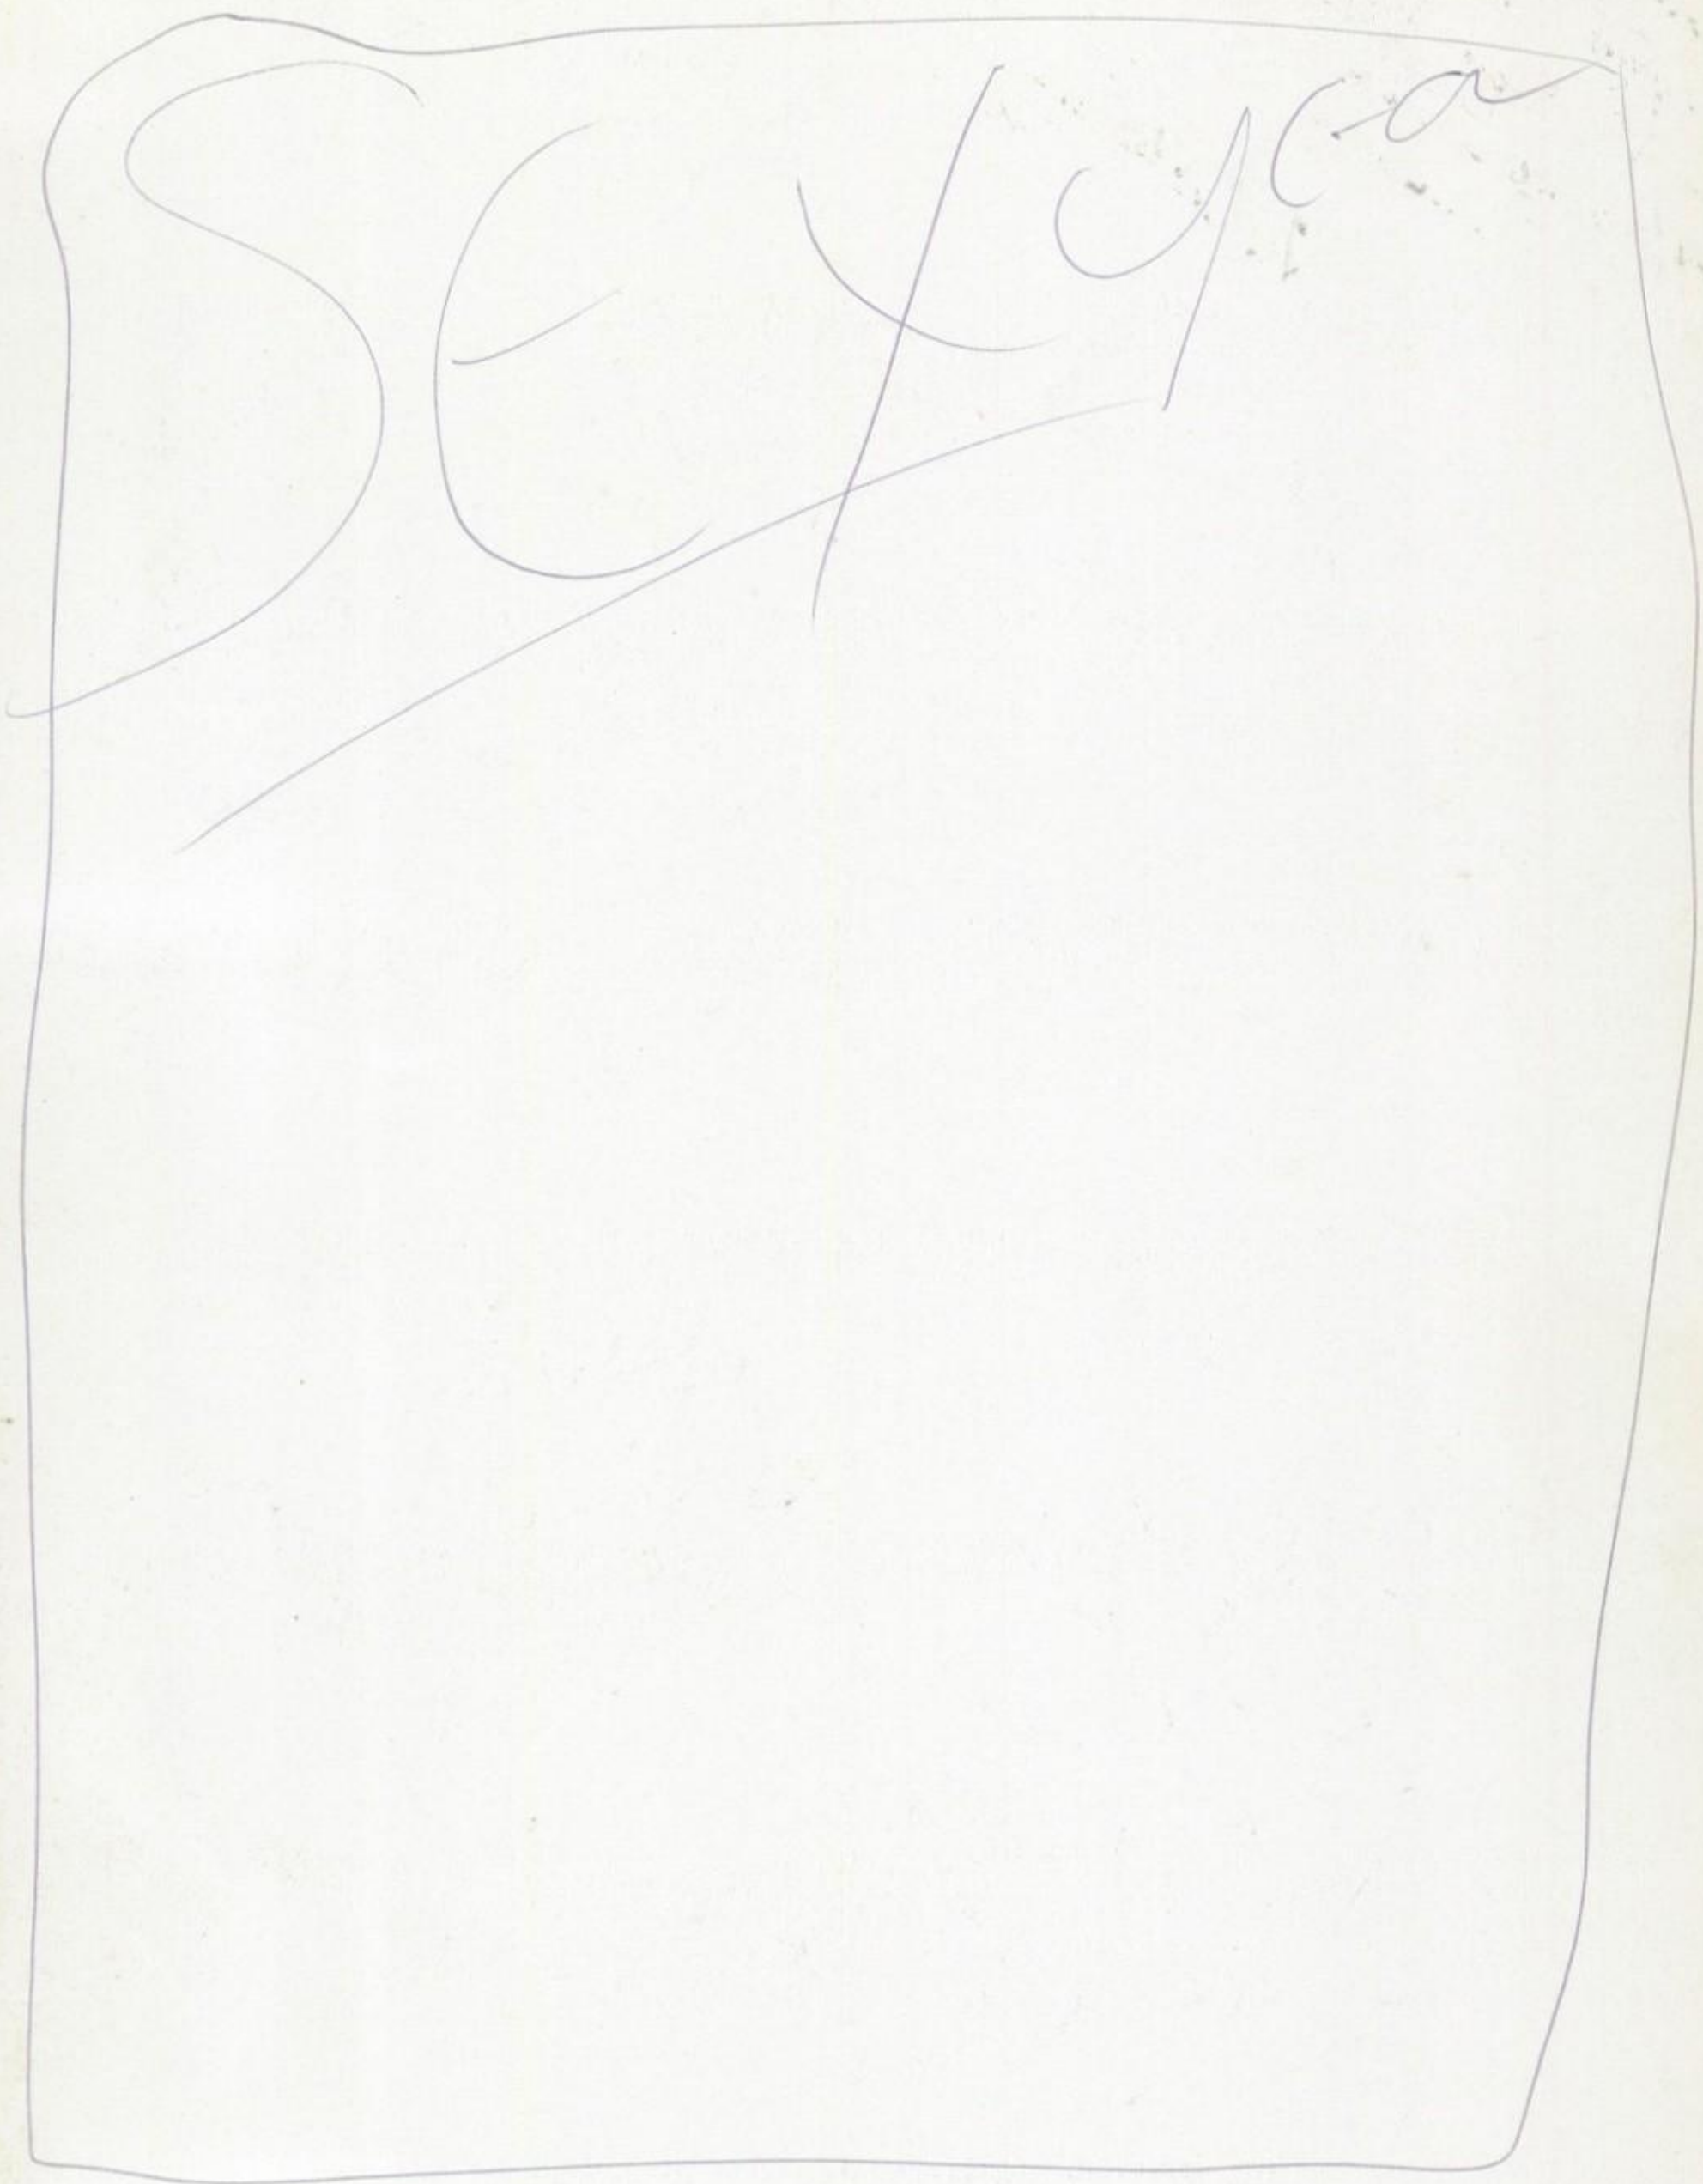

Brian,
 I really was fun!
 I hope to meet you
 at camp this past year.
 We really enjoyed staying as long as we did. Stay as long as you want. I'll be there too. See you soon. Love,
 Jill Taylor '71"

Brian,
 you're a real neat cool, groovy
 guy. Best of luck!
 Jill Taylor '71"

Brian, are one of the coolest guys I've ever met! You are a great guy with a real GREAT personality! Lots n
 Lots of Luck Always! Love,

RUBY ah-ha now we know!

ack!
It's Brain (whoops - that was a goof) Brian Martin!
You're an uncurable nut, so I wish you a luck in continuing being crazy (and <sup>the</sup> nuttiest person here.
Good Luck (at reading this)
Jan. Johnson

Brian,
I'll never forget
our first play together
"Yanks - Awfully" although I don't think I could ever really be your lover from Paris!
Good Luck always &
God Speed & Peace

Brian,

You are the most insulting person that I've ever met. No, not really. You're a load of fun, and you fun to be around. You're neater than your brother, and your Drama talent - well, it's indescribable. I'll come back next year and see ya. Keep an eye on Rick for me.

Love always,

Brian,

You're really a nice guy. And a very good Actor too. Good luck in all you do,

Tom Ludwig 11

Brian - guess I've been I have it different I don't know you I'd at surprise I always! Good luck really
I know you're the best! I know you're the best! I know you're the best!
I know you're the best! I know you're the best! I know you're the best!

Brian,

try
You are cute
guy, a sweet
guy, an intelligent guy & every bit as good as your brother.
I know you'll go far with all your talent, & I want to wish you all the luck in the world.

Your friend always,
Vicki

Brian,
you're a really sweet guy who is very funny. I'll be far in life for sure.
Have fun in next two years at West and good luck with your acting. Have a ball
all you do!
Good luck

Brian, Howdy!
I really think you're cool! Don't know what I'd do with that old fogie
"Julius Caesar" without ya! Good luck Always!
Lulu,
Ted Edw

Brian, good you and I had a lot of fun
in Glee club
Good luck
with the girls.
